

The Canada Research Chair in Childhood Disability: Participation and Knowledge Translation and the Center for Interdisciplinary Research in Rehabilitation of the Greater Montreal (CRIR) invite you to an open seminar / discussion on:

Human Rights and Children with Disabilities: Linking research, practice and policy

Maya Sabatello, PhD, Columbia University:

A look at the rights of children with disabilities worldwide:
From theory to practice in health-related settings

Mona Paré, PhD, University of Ottawa:

Inclusion and participation of children with disabilities in education:
Law and policy perspectives in Canadian contexts

When: March 11th, 2016
10:00–11:30AM

Where: McGill University Goodman Cancer Research Centre
1160 Avenue des Pins
Montreal, QC.

*Following the seminar you are also invited to a talk by Jerome Bickenbach, PhD:

“From social theory to global Policy: Reflections on disability, human rights and global health”

From 12:00–13:30. In the context of the conference: Moving Forward Together: Advancing rehabilitation in a global context

RSVP if you can! parktlab@gmail.com

