

Montreal Branch of CIM Mining Engineering Scholarship

Calling all Québec mining engineering students – here's your opportunity to receive recognition for your dedication and hard work!

The Montreal Branch of CIM, in conjunction with the Canadian Mining and Metallurgical Foundation (CMMF) is committed to ensuring a strong future for the mining industries through incentives to support and promote education. In an effort to encourage young people to pursue careers in mining and related industries, the Montreal Branch of CIM is sponsoring a Mining Engineering Scholarship.

The Montreal Branch of CIM is offering one $1,750 award to an outstanding undergraduate Québec student annually in the field of mining engineering in Québec. Applications must be submitted by April 15. The scholarship recipient will be announced in August and the scholarship will be awarded in September providing the candidate remains active and enrolled in their faculty's mining program.

The Montreal Branch of CIM is a part of the of the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum (CIM), Canada's leading professional association for the mining, minerals and energy industries. CIM has over 14,000 members, 10 technical societies and over 35 branches across the country and around the world.
