Faculty Club Newsletter May 2013 Edition

Spring is here! The days get longer as summer quickly approaches. It's the perfect season to thank your co-workers by spending time with them enjoying delicious food in a pleasant ambience. The McGill Faculty Club proudly caters to all of your needs. Whether it's an informal gathering of colleagues over food, snacks and drinks; or a large meeting -- we're sure to have the proper space size perfectly suited for your occasion. Our event specialist, Adrian Chu, is on hand for consultations. From food to meeting rooms to timing and venues, he will help you design your meetings making each and every event unique! Our staff also takes the time to inform you of the McGill benefit you receive when you choose to pay for meetings via FOAPAL.

And a special thank you to members who attended Latin night on April 17th. The music was amazing and members enjoyed dancing to Latin beats. Your continuing support is truly appreciated.

St. James Literary Society 'Islam: Myths and Misperceptions' Tuesday, May 14th at 7:30 pm

The St. James Literary Society is a non-profit organisation founded in Montreal in 1898. It is one of the oldest learned associations in North America. The society's mandate is to provide a forum for a free exchange of ideas on various topics: politics, law, science, religion, medicine among others.

'Islam: Myths and Misperceptions' will be presented by the St. James Literary Society. The discussion will look into the fastest growing religion in the world and will explore some of the basic tenets of the Islamic faith and traditions while delving into a few of the more common myths and misperceptions associated with the religion.

For reservations, please call (514) 484-0146.
