

GLIS 612

Course Lecturer in History of Books

Fall 2017

Deadline for receipt of complete applications: June 22, 2016

McGill's School of Information Studies Master's program (<https://www.mcgill.ca/sis/home>) is seeking a Course Lecturer to teach the History of Books course. The official course description is as follows (<https://www.mcgill.ca/sis/courses>):

Surveyed are the development of writing, alphabets, and books from their inception, and of printing from its invention in the fifteenth century. Historical bibliography dealing with the various physical elements in book production, including design.

The course lecturer should have successfully completed courses in librarianship at the graduate level, including the courses on the history of books. The lecturer must have at least two years' experience as a professional librarian, preferably in an academic library. Ideally, the candidate will have had taught a course in the history of books. A Master's degree is required.

The class will be held in the fall semester, September 12 to December 5 on Mondays from 2:30-5:30pm. The course lecturer contract will be from Sept. 1st – Dec. 30th inclusive. Salary will be commensurate with the salary scale for Course Lecturers, as described in the McGill Course Lecturers and Instructors Union Collective Agreement currently set at $7,600 per course.

If you are interested in applying please email the following: a cover letter outlining your approach to teaching this course, a current C.V. and any teaching evaluations (if available) to the Director of SIS, Dr. Kimiz Dalkir, c/o Cathy Venetico, Administrative Coordinator, at Cathy.Venetico@mcgill.ca.

McGill University is committed to equity in employment and diversity. It welcomes applications from indigenous peoples, visible minorities, ethnic minorities, persons with disabilities, women, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities and others who may contribute to further diversification.

L'Université McGill souscrit à la diversité et à l'équité en matière d'emploi. Elle accueille favorablement les demandes d'emploi des peuples autochtones, des minorités visibles, des minorités ethniques, des personnes handicapées, des femmes, des personnes de toutes orientations et identités sexuelles et d'autres personnes qui pourraient contribuer à une plus grande diversité.

The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French would be an asset.