This information bulletin is an initiative from Content and Collaboration Solutions and Teaching and Learning Services designed to inform you of upcoming events, and resources to enhance your teaching at McGill University.

FEATURED EVENT

Safer Spaces Workshops: Disability, Access and Universal Design
February 6

Wonder what challenges face people with disabilities on campus? Want to know how you can help improve universal access? Learn the statistics and barriers to universal access at McGill today and re-examine your preconceived notions about disability in higher education. You will also have the opportunity to examine case studies; identifying obstacles to inclusion and brainstorming ways in which to eliminate these.

Safer Spaces Workshops: Race & Cultural Identity
February 12

Do you know what issues exist surrounding race and culture at McGill? Learn how to best foster diversity-receptive cultural attitudes and maintain a culturally respectful space on campus. Participants will have the opportunity to work through cases of discrimination most frequently encountered on campus.

Safer Spaces Workshops: Aboriginal Perspectives
February 25

Are you interested in examining issues related to the inclusion of Aboriginal peoples on our campuses? This workshop provides historical and contemporary information about laws and policies, demographics, and cultural and economic realities. Participants will have the opportunity to apply new ideas and awareness, and build skills, by working through practical scenarios drawn from everyday work and life at McGill.
ANNOUNCEMENTS

MC2 guidelines
McGill has developed a framework to guide the use of mobile computing and communications devices in classes. We encourage you to consult them for suggestions for addressing any potential issues with your class.

Give permission to disseminate your numerical course evaluation results
Students are more inclined to complete course evaluations if they know the results will be available to them. A minimum response rate must be met and instructors need to give permission for this to happen. For more information and how to access the online permission form, click here.

Access to WebCT: Changes as of February 1, 2013
As of February 1, 2013, the legacy LMS system, WebCT, will begin to be phased out. Students and instructors may continue to access their courses in WebCT with some restrictions.

Fellowship opportunity for your graduate students
Students interested in the development of university teaching and learning are invited to apply for the Arthur and Dawn Weston Fellowship in Teaching and Learning in Higher Education. Note that this fellowship is open to Masters and Doctoral students from all disciplines.
