Teaching Award Winners 2013
There are a number of Faculty-based awards for University teaching. If your Faculty or teaching unit has an award and/or a record of previous winners, please email tls@mcgill.ca so that we can help publicize the winners by linking to this information.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

McGill’s Teaching for Learning Blog
Join McGill faculty, staff and students in a conversation about higher education.

- Librarians in the Classroom: A post by graduate student Kristen Emmett about the intersection between librarianship and university teaching.
- Adapt or die?: A post by Prof. Terry Hebert about the impact of MOOCs on higher education.

Individual Consultation and Custom Group Workshops
Need help with, or advice about, using technology to enhance your teaching? Educational Technology Consultants from Content and Collaboration Solutions are available to meet with you, either one-on-one or in a group session, to address any educational technology needs you may have.

Course Evaluations Reports: Faculty Means
Faculty means for course evaluations are now available for the 2012-2013 academic year. The means are presented by course level and by class size for the four questions which appear on all course evaluations.

Delivery of Library Material to Faculty with Campus Offices
Need a book from anywhere on campus? Faculty members can now use library accounts to request any item available for loan to be delivered to their campus address. Delivery will normally take 2 to 4 working days if the item is on the shelf. Materials may be returned via internal mail or at any library branch, as usual.

TEACHING RESOURCES

Teaching Snapshots: Perspectives on teaching and learning
Ever wonder what other professors do to keep their students engaged? Visit the Teaching Snapshots website and learn about McGill instructors’ thoughts on teaching and learning. New interviews added this month include instructors teaching philosophy, law, writing, and statistics.
