From: Prof. Anthony C. Masi, Provost Anthony C Masi

Date: 24 February 2015

Subject: FY2015-2016 Academic Salary Policy

The components of the 2015-2016 salary adjustment envelope are as follows:

Across-the-board increase

Effective 1 June 2015, there will be an across-the-board increase of 0.75% for all eligible academic staff members.

Merit award

An amount equal to 4.95% of the total academic salary mass has been allocated for merit increases for eligible academic staff.

Merit increases will be awarded to individuals strictly on the basis of academic performance during the period 1 January 2014 to 31 December 2014 based on the established practices in their respective academic unit(s).

Following past practices, CASC has established five flat-amount categories: $0, $1,600, $3,450, $5,300 and $7,150.

The merit increase will also take effect on 1 June 2015.

The across-the-board and the merit increases will not be compounded, and are not retroactive.

To be eligible for the across-the-board increase and merit award, staff members must have been officially appointed before 1 September 2014.

Retention and Anomaly Envelope

A special envelope of 0.35% of academic salary mass has been set aside to address issues of retention and anomaly.

This envelope is critical to sustain our ability to compete for and retain our academic staff in an internationally competitive environment and to make adjustments in cases in which inequities have been identified.

Promotional Increase Envelope

An amount representing 0.30% of academic salary mass has been allocated to cover salary increases for librarians and professors who are promoted to the rank of associate or full librarian/professor.

Upon promotion to the rank of associate or full professor or librarian the increase is $5,000.

Professional Development

A Professional Development Allowance (PDA) of up to $500 is available, for eligible academic staff members, during the period from 1 May 2015 to 30 April 2016.

The PDA can be used to cover costs associated with memberships in scholarly societies, travel and registration for scholarly meetings, subscriptions to scholarly journals, and the purchase of scholarly books. In addition, the allowance may be used to reimburse expenses incurred for computer hardware and software. Financial Services administers the program.

Details regarding the program, including application forms and contact information, may be obtained at <http://www.mcgill.ca/financialservices/pdf/>

Note that the yearly $500 allowance may be accumulated, to a maximum of $1,500, over the three-year period from 1 May 2013 to 30 April 2016.

Salary Confirmation

Confirmation of individual salary increases will be available through Minerva.

The electronic confirmation will reflect the across-the-board and merit increases, including anomaly and retention adjustments, if applicable.

Salary increases will appear on the pay cheque of 12 June 2015.
