Tenure-Track Faculty Position

Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

Faculty: Faculty of Arts

Department/School: Department of Political Science

Position Description

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will have a regional specialization in either Latin America, Africa, the United States, or Japan, as well as excellent skills and demonstrated training in qualitative methods. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, but appointment at a higher rank is possible under exceptional circumstances. The position start date is August 1, 2020.

For more information about the Department and University, please visit our website at: www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/. Inquiries may be sent to the Chair of the Department, Juliet Johnson, at juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

Job Duties

Teaching, research, and service within the Department of Political Science. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to teaching in our sequence of methods courses, particularly at the graduate level.

Qualifications and Education Requirements

Candidates should have completed their PhD or be near completion. An applicant’s record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability/potential to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as to provide supervision for graduate students. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

COMMITMENT TO EQUITY AND DIVERSITY

McGill University hires on the basis of merit and is strongly committed to equity and diversity within its community. We welcome applications from racialized persons/visible minorities, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, ethnic minorities, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, as well as from all qualified candidates with the skills and knowledge to productively engage with diverse communities.

McGill further recognizes and fairly considers the impact of leaves (e.g., family care or health-related) that may contribute to career interruptions or slowdowns. Candidates are encouraged to signal any leave that affected productivity, may have had an effect on their career path. This information will be considered to ensure the equitable assessment of the candidate’s record.

McGill implements an employment equity program and encourages members of designated equity groups to self-identify. It further seeks to ensure the equitable treatment and full inclusion of persons with disabilities by striving for the implementation of universal design principles transversally, across all facets of the University community, and through accommodation policies and procedures. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application process may contact, in confidence, Professor Angela Campbell, Associate Provost (Equity and Academic Policies) by email or phone at 514-398-1660.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
