Celebrating BITS Student Mentors

Professor Arif Mustafa

Dr. Arif F. Mustafa is an Associate Professor of Dairy Nutrition in the Animal Science Department, McGill University. His main area of research is dairy cattle nutrition. Dr. Mustafa is a recipient of the distinguished William Dawson Scholar Award and recipient of the Macdonald teaching excellence award. Dr. Mustafa contributed the animal science perspective to the “Sustainable Land Use” course.

To gain an understanding of land use in the Caribbean, students visited many animal and plant production facilities. During those visits students were directly involved in discussion regarding the production of animal and crops in small island tropical conditions.

The BITS Program gives a heartfelt thank-you to these two professors who participated in teaching the Sustainable Land Use course.

Email: arif.mustafa@mcgill.ca

By: Christie Lovat & Danielle J. Donnelly; Layout: Vijayeta Patel