

NEWSFLASH

EDUCATION FORUM
Ahead of the World Education Forum 2015, the World Bank Group announced that it will double results-based financing for education to US$5 billion over the next five years. The new financing is part of the group's commitment to end extreme poverty in the world by 2030 by improving both the quality and equity of education, so that all children learn the skills they need to lead more prosperous lives. More than 150 countries met in Korea recently to discuss a new goal and framework for action on education for the next 15 years. The Declaration on Education 2030, to be agreed at the forum will mobilise all countries and partners to implement the new agenda, and propose ways for its co-ordination, financing and monitoring – globally, regionally and nationally.

HONORARY DOCTORATE
NR Narayana Murthy will receive an honorary doctorate from the Desautels Faculty of Management at McGill University in Canada on May 28. Murthy, the co-founder of Infosys Ltd, will be acknowledged for his accomplishments in business and dedication to fairer wealth distribution. The award – the highest honour bestowed by McGill – is in line with the school's commitment to acknowledge, as well as develop, business leaders who have a global outlook and understand the importance of personal responsibility.

HACKATHON
Axis Bank has announced a virtual hackathon challenge, scheduled for May 30-31, in partnership with NASCOM. The bank is in search of developers and designers who can craft the financial technology solutions, using the bank's digital platforms/APIs on the mobile channel. Anybody with an idea can participate, be it individually or in a team.

APPOINTMENT

CAREER CHOICES
A study on 'Trends in Career Preferences and Opportunities' from 2012-15, conducted by Delhi-based hybrid student career counselling start-up, CareerCo, revealed that three out of every four respondents wished to pursue a career in the humanities. More than 36,000 respondents registered for the study, which included a mix of students and professionals from tier I, II and III cities and nine per cent from outside India. Psychometric tests were used to gauge individuals' interests.

Applications are invited for fellowship courses
(July 2015) in various specialties at NH-Narayana Health City, Bommasandra, Bangalore, Karnataka.
