

March 1, 2018

PhD FORUM

with invited guest
SUN-YOUNG PARK

Sun-Young Park is an architectural and urban historian specializing in modern France, currently Assistant Professor in George Mason University's Department of History and Art History. Her work lies at the intersection of cultural history, the history of the built environment, and the history of medicine. Her first book, Ideals of the Body: Architecture, Urbanism, and Hygiene in Postrevolutionary Paris, is forthcoming with the University of Pittsburgh Press. Dr. Park received a B.A. in Architecture from Princeton University, and an M.Arch. and Ph.D. in the history of architecture and urbanism from Harvard University. Her research has been supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Society of Architectural Historians, the Whiting Foundation, and the Minda de Gunzburg Center for European Studies at Harvard, among others. She is currently working on a second book project tentatively titled The Architecture of Disability in Modern France.

PROGRAM

10:00 – 12:00

Workshop: "Working in Archives"

12:00 – 1:30

Lunch Break

1:45 – 4:30

PhD Student Presentations

LOCATION

SSoM BUILDING

3647, Peel Street, Room 102

RSVP: phd.architecture@mcgill.ca

Peter Guo-hua Fu
School of Architecture

GINA PAGE

Aspiring to Heal, not Harm: The Impact of Evidence-Based Design on Canadian and American Hospital Architecture

NATHALIE KERSCHEN

CTRL+Z : On the question of Nature in bio-inspired design and the work of Olafur Eliasson

Fonds National de la Recherche Luxembourg Supported by the Luxembourg National Research Fund (FNR) (11273634)

MELTEM AL

Spaces of capital, religion, and ideology: Fundamentalist housing enclaves in Istanbul

JAIMIE CUDMORE

Learning urban design: Towards equitable spatial praxis in the Australian and Canadian context