

Restorative, Prosthodontics, and/or Rehabilitation Dentistry

McGill University is one of the world's top-ranking universities. It has outstanding research and a very strong commitment to excellent teaching and learning and service to the community. The Faculty of Dentistry is the strongest research dental faculty in Canada, and has a highly dynamic professoriate and innovative teaching program, with strong links in the community to broaden the teaching and learning opportunities for its trainees.

The Faculty of Dentistry invites applications for a tenure-track position in restorative, prosthetic and/or rehabilitative dentistry. Rank and salary will be commensurate with experience. Candidates must have completed an undergraduate degree in dentistry and advanced clinical and/or research training. Requirements for the tenure-track position include a PhD or equivalent degree and the ability to conduct independent research in a relevant field. Responsibilities will include research, undergraduate and graduate training and administrative work to support these activities. A working knowledge of French will be advantageous. Intramural private dental practice facilities are available.

Applications, including a curriculum vitae, a statement of research and teaching interests and the names and postal and e-mail addresses of three referees, should be sent to the address below. Deadline for submission of applications is December 15, 2014.
