Founded in 1904 by Clara Lichtenstein as the McGill Conservatorium, the McGill Conservatory is proud of its long and established history of providing quality music education to both the McGill University and Montreal communities. The McGill Conservatory is the Community Program of the Schulich School of Music of McGill University and offers music lessons for all ages and abilities.

A Musical Tradition. The main focus of instruction at the McGill Conservatory is on classical music. However, we offer instrumental and theoretical instruction in all styles including jazz and popular music. Students enrolled at the McGill Conservatory come from the Montreal region, or are currently studying at McGill University in other degree programs. With a view to serve both these constituencies, the McGill Conservatory has two locations: downtown in the Strathcona Music Building of the Schulich School of Music and in the West-Island at Macdonald Campus, Ste-Anne-de-Bellevue.

Teaching Staff. Our students benefit from a highly qualified and dedicated teaching staff, many of whom continue to perform actively.

Language of Instruction. Practical lessons in most instruments and ensemble coaching are offered in both English and French. Theory and Ear Training courses are taught in English, with bilingual support from instructors. Examinations are offered in both English and French.

Concerts & Workshops

Concerts

Year-round student concerts are an important aspect of the training offered at the McGill Conservatory. Conferences are presented in the Clara Lichtenstein Hall, Redpath Hall, Tanna Schulich Hall and Pollack Concert Hall. Exact dates are available on the Conservatory website. In addition, the Schulich School of Music of McGill University offers a wide variety of free concerts.

- Suzuki Strings Concert: $5.00
- Scholarship Gala Concert: $10.00
- Choir Concerts: General $15.00, Students / Seniors $10.00
- Staff and Guests Series Concerts: General $15.00, Students / Seniors $10.00

Masterclasses & Workshops

Each year the McGill Conservatory sponsors several student workshops and masterclasses conducted by senior staff from the Schulich School of Music of McGill University or by well known Canadian and American clinicians. Workshops and masterclasses are open to McGill Conservatory students enrolled in practical instruction at appropriate levels, depending on the particular workshop or masterclass. Students may be selected by their instructors to perform or they may audit the workshop or masterclass. A small fee may be charged for either of the above-mentioned forms of participation.

Dates & Fees 2019-2020

www.mcgill.ca/conservatory
Music examinations are offered at the end of each academic year to external students as well as to those studying at the McGill Conservatory in all instruments and/or in Theory and Ear Training. All examinations are offered in English and French.

The McGill Conservatory Examinations are recognized by the Ministère de l’Éducation of the Government of Quebec. High School additional credits may be obtained at the Secondary levels.

Important Considerations

- McGill Conservatory Practical Examinations take place between 9 am and 9 pm on weekdays and between 9 am and 6 pm on weekends.
- The McGill Conservatory cannot guarantee that requests for specific practical examination dates or times will be granted.
- The McGill Conservatory understands the extreme importance of both Ministère and school in-house final examinations.
- McGill Conservatory Practical Examinations take place exclusively in the month of June.
- Examination Rescheduling is only available for direct school examination conflicts or for medical reasons.
- McGill Conservatory Examinations will review requests to use Substitution Repertoire when submitted with the online application.

Little Musicians

3 to 6 years old

These classes are designed to be child-centered and developmentally-appropriate. Children are encouraged to explore their inherent musicality while developing the necessary skills for entrance into private musical studies. Class sizes are small to ensure that children receive the maximum benefit of individual attention while working within a motivating group environment.

Orff Method

6 to 8 years old

These classes are designed to develop the necessary skills in preparation for and/or complement instrumental lessons. Children are encouraged through the natural sense of play to be active participants in music-making, while developing listening skills, in-tune singing, beat and rhythmic comprehension, and basic musical concept knowledge.

Ukulele Group Class

6 to 8 years old

The Ukulele Group Class is a great way to introduce your child to instrumental lessons while working within a motivating group environment. Each lesson will involve the learning of playing techniques, group and solo playing, quiet practicing, and singing. Some principles of music notation also are introduced. The ukulele is ideal for small hands and for beginners who may consider further studies in the guitar.
Suzuki Method

What is it?
The Suzuki method was developed in Japan more than 50 years ago by Dr. Shinichi Suzuki. Based on a philosophy of respect for the child, this method holds that talent is not inherited and that the potential of every child is unlimited. Dr. Suzuki believed that children are capable of developing their musical abilities in the same way they develop their linguistic abilities.

How does it work?
It is important that the child starts as young as possible. One parent must accept the responsibility of attending lessons. The children learn naturally at their own rate of development. Music reading is delayed until the child's aural and technical skills are well established, after which it is carefully integrated into the child's curriculum. Every child has individual as well as group lessons.

Registration Fees, Deposits and Payments

The Conservatory charges a $15.00 Registration Fee per term per student.

New students who wish to apply for the Suzuki Method or instrumental lessons must pay a non-refundable deposit fee of $100.00 to open their file and initiate the teacher-assignment process for the Fall Term. This deposit will be applied to tuition fees when paying for the course. The entire tuition fees are due upon registration for the Winter, Spring and Summer Terms.

All fees are non-refundable after the course registration deadlines.

Please complete the Personal Data Form, the Registration Form and, where applicable, the Teacher Assignment Form, which may be mailed to the Conservatory Office, sent by fax: (514) 398-4293, or present yourself in person to register. These forms also are available online at: www.mcgill.ca/conservatory/new-students/printable-forms.

Payment Methods

The Conservatory is now a cash-free environment. For your convenience, you can pay on the web (available to Conservatory students with Minerva access): Internet Banking, Visa, MasterCard, and American Express or in person: Interac, Visa, MasterCard and cheque.

Conditions

The McGill Conservatory reserves the right to make changes to the fees and / or calendar. The most up-to-date information can be found on our website.

Students who register after the registration deadline will be charged the Late Registration Fee of $30.00. Interest also will be charged on overdue fees.

If payment is not received by the deadline, the instructor will be informed that lessons must cease until payment is received. Any lessons which should have been given during this time will be forfeited; the instructor will not be expected to make up these lessons.

Late Registration

There is a Late Registration Period for each term which requires the payment of a $30.00 Late Registration Fee. ¹

No registrations will be accepted per term after its Late Registration Period.

New students who wish to submit a late application must do so no later than 3 days before the end of the Late Registration Period.
