Event Administration

Organizer, 88e Congrès de l'Acfas, Colloque #653 - L'inclusion des jeunes trans, nonbinaires et Bispirituel-le-s en recherche et en intervention : enjeux contemporains, Conference, 2021/5 - 2021/5

This symposium included 18 oral presentations and posters on trans inclusion in research and intervention. I had the opportunity to contribute at every step of the process and co-hosted and organized the open post-presentation discussions with trans youth and parents in an example of participatory ethics in academia. <https://bit.ly/Acfas653>

Organizer and Coordinator, Lecture series: "Health, Well-Being and Inclusion of Trans and Non-Binary People", Seminar, 2019/10 - 2020/12

In October 2019, I decided to create a project to host a series of lectures on trans, non-binary and gender-diverse issues and experiences that were given by community experts and academics. We adapted to the pandemic context by putting everything into webinars.
 This lecture series took place from September 2020 to December 2020. More than 800 audience members attended lectures on : (1) inclusive French strategies, (2) trans and non-binary identities and (neo-)colonialism, (3) trans and non-binary homelessness,
 (4) trans care for youths and (il)legal practices, and (5) the minority stress of trans and non-binary people. In order for this project to succeed, I had to create a plan for a big fundraiser and submit project proposals to funding organisations between October 2019 and September 2020. Finally, I had to use my graphic design skills to create posters and coordinate participants to make sure everything worked as intended.

Event Participation

Expert Consultant and Patient Advisor on LGBTQ+ Inclusion, Educational Retreat of the Comité Interfacultaire Organisationnel des cours en Collaboration en Science de la Santé de l'UdeM (CIO-UdeM)], Conference, 2021/5 - 2021/6

During the interprofessional health and social services course, I raised some concerns (lack of representation of queer and trans people, and POC) and began working with the organizational leadership to make concrete changes in the training of our future health care providers and leaders. As a result, I was invited to participate in an educational retreat to propose inter- and intra-disciplinary curriculum changes as an expert. There, I delivered 3 trainings on trans and queer inclusion and used my knowledge as a patient advisor to improve the CSS-1900/2900/3900 interprofessional courses and the health of this population in the future. The CIO-UdeM (operational interfaculty committee of the University of Montréal) initiated this interprofessional reflection on LGBTQ+, Indigenous and racialized folks' matter.

Representative of the student association, Conference of the Canadian Association for Social Work Education (CASWE) part of the Congress for the Federation for the Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of British Columbia, Conference, 2019/6 - 2019/6

From June 3 to 6, 2019, the CASWE conference was held at the University of British Columbia (UBC), where attendees were able to participate in the various presentations given by researchers. As a student, I was also invited to represent my student association at the CASWE's Annual General Meeting.

Community and Volunteer Activities

Member of the Board of Directors, Espace LGBTQ+

As a board member of this new community organization, I am helping to build a future community centre in the heart of Montréal's LGBTQ+ Village. In creating policies and spaces for future LGBTQ+ organizations to occupy a building, I am bringing my training in social work and research by providing more insight into intersectional realities and issues that are less known by members of our communities. I have also volunteered to give a presentation on inclusive language.

Volunteer and Caregiver, Les Petits Frères

At Les Petits Frères, we help to break the isolation of vulnerable elderly people whom we call "Great Friends". I have been the weekly companion of a lady who has had no family for more than three years. I also participated in the big yearly Christmas event and gave them vacations (by catering for them) at their cottage in Oka. My involvement is essential to me, not only because we could be in the same situation later, but because no one deserves to be or feel alone. After three years, I have seen how the sadness and loneliness in her eyes slowly disappeared. We have found true friendship, and I see someone changed now. I can see her laugh more and feeling loved. She had such a positive influence on my life and brought me much wisdom.

2020/9 - 2021/10

Head Coordinator, TransMontréal

- Coordinate the executive committee of the organization; - Develop projects to improve the social conditions of trans people at the Université de Montréal; - Collaborate on research projects in partnership with the Canada Research Chair on trans children and their families; - Advocate for the rights of trans students at the University of Montréal; - Developing the strategy to change the GATUM as TransMontreal.

- 2019/9 - 2021/10 Spokesperson, TransMontréal
 - Represent TransMontréal at external events; - (Co-)manage social media and email communications; - Advocate and promote the rights of trans people within University of Montréal; - (Co-)organise events related to TransMontréal (workshops, kiosks, fundraisers); - Meet with members for active listening services.
- 2018/9 - 2019/9 External Affairs Coordinator, Association étudiante en travail social de l'Université de Montréal
 - Represent social work students in organizations outside the Association; - Attend Executive Committee meetings and Social Work Department meetings; - Communicate important information to members of the Association in class and via Facebook; - Organize events with political involvement and social demands.

Knowledge and Technology Translation

- 2021/8 - 2021/8 Author, Community Engagement
 Group/Organization/Business Serviced: Transgender and non-binary populations
 Target Stakeholder: Academic Personnel
 Outcome / Deliverable: The outcomes of this article were to add to the literature around cisgender fragility, which is nearly absent in gray and academic literature in French and English. The final article's name is : "Pour en finir avec la fragilité cisgenre: Quand parler de transphobie dérange"
 Evidence of Uptake/Impact: The article was viewed over 600 times
 References / Citations / Web Sites: Paré, A. (2021, août). Pour en finir avec la fragilité cisgenre : quand parler de transphobie dérange. Medium. <https://medium.com/@AshPare/pour-en-finir-avec-la-fragilit%C3%A9-cisgenre-vm-f4e0adf6adab> Activity Description: I have written an article to address the problematic discourse of an organization. They were trying to address transphobia by asking someone I know if they could be a public speaker at their event, but in doing so, they did not talk to my friend in a way that is appropriate nor sensitive to the very reality that they are trying to help. Instead of taking the input of the person, they reacted in a cis fragile way. I have undertaken the writing of a semi-academic article comprising 33 references and deconstructed the concept of cisgender fragility. This article was mostly an ethnographic one, using the lived experience of Vincent Mousseau to expose the social dynamics and systemic oppression behind the issues raised in the discussions that Vincent had with the Bad Boys Club Montreal.

- 2021/11 - 2021/4
 Consultant for a medical gender-transition guide, Consultation Service
 Group/Organization/Business Serviced: TransEstrie
 Target Stakeholder: General Public
 Outcome / Deliverable: "The Medical Transition Guide is a joint project of TransEstrie and the Conseil Québécois LGBT aimed at demystifying the medical transition process and access to it in the Quebec context. This guide is primarily intended for trans, non-binary and questioning people so that they can understand the different possibilities available to them, provide informed consent throughout their medical transition and defend their right to access the procedures they need. It is also intended to be a tool for health care professionals and therapists who want to play an active and appropriate role in their patients' medical transition."
 Evidence of Uptake/Impact: The guide has been shared multiple times in professional groups on social media.
 References / Citations / Web Sites: Transitionner.info
 Activity Description: In this guide, throughout 5 consultation committee meetings, I have been able to review all the information and make sure that the guide would be as holistic as possible from my social work perspective. We also made sure that the guide would be comprehensible for both people who seek medical transition-related care and professionals who do not know much about transition-related care.
- 2019/10 - 2020/10
 Expert Advisor, Community Engagement
 Group/Organization/Business Serviced: GRIS-Montréal
 Target Stakeholder: General Public
 Outcome / Deliverable: A guide called "La transphobie, c'est pas mon genre" was created to raise awareness around transphobia in the schools of the province of Quebec. The guide is a pedagogical tool with exercises and stories (my story at page 72) to cultivate compassion and knowledge around transness.
 Evidence of Uptake/Impact: In the 2020-2021 annual report of GRIS-Montréal, the presented statistics show that over 1500 students were raised awareness with this guide. The guide is still in use and helps students and teachers to better recognize transphobia and include trans, non-binary and gender-diverse people.
 References / Citations / Web Sites: <https://www.gris.ca/nouveau-guide-pedagogique-sur-les-realites-des-personnes-trans-et-non-binaires/>
 Activity Description: As an Expert Advisor, I was interviewed for a few hours on my coming-out narrative, my work as a trans and non-binary activist and my outlook on the social problems contributing to transphobia in our society.

International Collaboration Activities

- 2021/8 - 2021/8
 Invited Panelist, United States
 The Trans Collaborative Network hosted its first annual conference by and for trans and non-binary communities on August 7 and 8 in Miami, Florida. Presentations covered a wide range of topics affecting trans communities, including medical, legal, social, professional, self-care, and more. The featured presentation was held on August 8, from 11:40 a.m. to 1:10 p.m. Workshop #6 : "Trans-Inclusive Communications in Health Care and Social Services" for many participants, in person and online.

Other Memberships

2019/5 - 2020/5 Student Member, Canadian Association for Social Work Education
I represented the School of Social Work at the Université de Montréal at the Canadian Association for Social Work Education Congress (part of the 2019 Humanities and Social Sciences Conference UBC - Vancouver) and Annual General Meeting. I have also participated in social work panel discussions focusing on new findings and various issues found in recent research.
