

Dr. William Buckett is the Chief of the Division of Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility at McGill University and the Medical Director of the McGill University Health Centre Reproductive Centre. He is also Associate Professor in the department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

He received his medical degree from the University of Birmingham in and was awarded the MRCOG in 1994. After subspecialty training at the University of Liverpool (1995-1997) and McGill University (1997-1999), he took up a position as a consultant gynaecologist and sub-specialist in infertility at St Mary's Hospital, London and also was a Senior Lecturer at Imperial College, London. Since 2002, he has been on faculty at McGill University.

He regularly presents his work around the world and has authored or co-authored over 200 peer-reviewed articles, reviews, abstracts or book chapters. He has served on the editorial board of Human Reproduction and the Science Advisory Panel to Assisted Human Reproduction Canada.

Centre for Research in Reproduction and Development
Centre de recherche en
reproduction et développement