Graduate Engineering Equity Committee
of McGill University

We are a dynamic team of graduate students and postdocs dedicated to promoting social education and awareness within all departments and schools of the Faculty of Engineering at McGill University. We design interactive spaces for the exploration of topics related to equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI). Our initiatives aim to foster a sense of community among students, staff, and professors alike.

OUR EVENTS

We organise a wide range of events, from training sessions to discussion groups to multimedia activities.

Events are announced by email newsletter, social media, & our website!

RESOURCES

Not sure what you need or who to talk to? GEEC can help!

Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression

Ways to access support and tools to take action against racism and oppression.

Other Campus Resources

Student support services and groups related to community engagement, wellness, and sustainability.

Engineering Equity Groups

Students, staff, and faculty dedicated to equity, diversity, and inclusion within the Faculty of Engineering.

Tools & Guides

Miscellaneous resources for social education and accessibility on and off campus.

Non-Engineering Equity Groups

Students, staff, and faculty dedicated to equity, diversity, and inclusion across campus.

GEEC is committed to empowering and advocating for our fellow grad students and postdocs. We'd love to connect with you!

GETTING INVOLVED

We're recruiting! All McGill graduate students and postdoctoral fellows within the Faculty of Engineering, including the Schools of Architecture and Urban Planning, are welcome to apply.

To express interest in joining the committee, please contact Racchana Ramamurthy (External Communications Coordinator) at equity.geec@gmail.com with the following information:

1. A brief introduction (your name, department/school, degree program or position).
2. The position(s) for which you are applying.
3. If applying for a Coordinator position: A brief statement describing your motivations for joining the committee and any relevant experience.
