E-mail: fernando.saltiel@mcgill.ca

Office Hours: Wednesdays. 17:45-19:00 in Leacock 512.

Make an appointment at: <https://doodle.com/mm/fernandosaltiel/book-a-time>

2. Teaching Assistants

Guannan Li (guannan.li@mail.mcgill.ca)

Harpreet Singh (harpreet.singh2@mail.mcgill.ca)

Tutorials: To be determined.

3. Class Format

Classes are scheduled to be held on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4:05-5:25pm in the McConnell Engineering Building, Room 204.

The TAs will hold tutorials every week, starting in the second week of class. In these sessions, they will answer questions about the class material and solve problem set questions and other exercises in Workouts.

I will also be available during office hours every week to answer questions about class material. To meet with me, you should make an appointment at the Doodle link provided above. If you use office hours, you are expected to “arrive” prepared with specific questions. If you are unable to attend office hours because of scheduling conflicts, you should email the TAs with questions.

4. Course Overview

This course covers the second part of a class in microeconomic theory for Economics Major students. We will first cover topics related to firm’s profit maximization, cost minimization, cost curves, monopoly and oligopoly. We will examine topics and empirical applications of game theory. Lastly, we will cover issues related to market failures, including externalities, information technology and public goods. As in ECON230 D1, the class will be heavy on math. By the end of the course, students will have a solid foundation in the methods of microeconomics and will be able to apply these methods to the study of consumers, firms, and markets. The skills and methods learned in this course will prepare students to take more advanced, specialized economics courses.

5. Course Materials

As in ECON 230 D1 (01), Hal R. Varian’s Intermediate Microeconomics: A Modern Approach (9th Edition) will serve as the textbook for the course. This book is available at the bookstore and online. Any earlier edition of this book works well.

You should plan on doing the exercises in Theodore C. Bergstrom and Hal R. Varian's Workouts in Intermediate Microeconomics (9th Edition) to give you practice with the concepts covered in the course. The book and the Workouts are both available at the bookstore. Lecture slides and video recordings will be posted on myCourses.

6. Class Communication

All class announcements will be posted on myCourses.

I encourage you to ask questions related to the class material during the tutorials and office hours. If you want to ask questions electronically, please use the Discussions tool in MyCourses. You can also use the Discussions tab to form a virtual study group. The TAs and I will periodically check the Discussions tab to ensure proper usage, flag some postings, and answer questions.

For all administrative issues, please first contact the TAs. They are your first point of contact and will communicate important matters to me.

Questions that are personal in nature can be sent to me by e-mail. E-mails should be sent from your official McGill e-mail address and include [ECON 230 D2] in the subject line. I aim to reply to e-mails within 48 hours, except on weekends.

7. Evaluation

Your grade on this course will depend on your performance on weekly problem sets, two midterm exams and a final exam to be held during the final exam period.

The grade breakdown and the dates for the exams are as follows:

Problem Sets (20%): There will be 7 problem sets in total. To introduce flexibility, you are required to complete 5 out of the 7 problem sets: only your best five will count. The problem sets will be assigned on Monday (starting on January 15) and be due one week later.

Late submissions will not be accepted.

Midterm Exam I (15%): The first midterm exam will be held in-class on Monday, February 5.

Midterm Exam II (20%): The first midterm exam will be held in-class on Monday, March 18.

Final Exam (45%): The final exam will be held in April during the final exam period. A review lecture will be offered during the last week of class.

8. Make-Up Exams

You may only miss an exam for a documented family or medical emergency. If you miss an exam, you must hand me an original physician's note within 7 days of the date of the exam which explains the medical reason for your absence. No make-up exams are possible for midterm exams.

If you miss a midterm exam, that exam's weight will be reallocated to the final exam.

9. Re-Read Policy

We do our very best to ensure fair grading and to minimize errors. Nevertheless, if you disagree with the grade you have received in your exam, you may opt to have your exam re-read. Before you do, please make sure you first carefully compare your answers to the solutions we provide. To request a re-read, you must submit to me (the instructor, not the TA) your exam with a written justification for the re-read, specifying the question which you felt was incorrectly graded. This written request for re-read must be submitted within 7 days of receiving the exam. I will then re-read and reassess the answer. Please note that I may review the entire exam. As a result, your grade may go up, down, or stay the same. Policies on final exam re-reads are determined by the Faculty of Arts.

10. Final Grade for ECON230D

Students must register for both ECON 230D1 and ECON 230D2.

No credit will be given for ECON 230D unless both ECON 230D1 and ECON 230D2 are successfully completed in consecutive terms. Each semester contributes 50% to your final grade in ECON 230D.

You are not allowed to change sections for ECON 230D2 during the semester.

Students can transfer from ECON 250D to ECON 230D only prior to the January add/drop period in the Winter semester (January 17). For students using this window, the overall grade for ECON 230D will be composed of 25% of your ECON 250D1 Fall semester grade and 75% of your ECON 230D2 Winter semester grade.

Supplemental Exams. Supplemental exams for those eligible will cover material from both ECON 230D1 and ECON 230D2 and will be held during the summer after ECON 230D2. Supplemental exams are not given for individual semesters only. Students taking the supplemental exam should be aware that it counts for 100% of the student's overall grade in ECON 230D.

11. Course Outline

Below is a tentative course outline. The relevant chapters from the textbook are in parentheses,

You are encouraged to read the chapters, but for exam purposes you will only be responsible for material covered in the lectures and the tutorials.

I maintain discretion regarding changes to this outline. Any changes will be announced on myCourses.

Review sections will be covered very briefly as a refresher prior to teaching the relevant sections for the course.

12. McGill Policy Statements

Academic Integrity

McGill University values academic integrity. Therefore, all students must understand the meaning and consequences of cheating, plagiarism and other academic offences under the Code of Student Conduct and Disciplinary Procedures (see www.mcgill.ca/students/srr/honest/ for more information).

Language of Submission

Conformément à la Charte des droits de l'étudiant de l'Université McGill, chaque étudiant a le droit de soumettre en français ou en anglais tout travail écrit devant être noté (sauf dans le cas des cours dont l'un des objets est la maîtrise d'une langue).

In accord with McGill University's Charter of Students' Rights, students in this course have the right to submit in English or in French any written work that is to be graded.

Copyright of Lectures Statement

All slides, video recordings, problem sets and lecture notes remain the instructor's intellectual property. You may use these only for purposes of your own learning, but you are not permitted to disseminate or share these materials. Note that infringements of copyright can be subject to follow up by the University under the Code of Student Conduct and Disciplinary Procedures.

Extraordinary Circumstances Statement

In the event of extraordinary circumstances beyond the University's control, the content and/or evaluation scheme in this course is subject to change.

Accessibility and Policy

As the instructor of this course I endeavor to provide an inclusive learning environment. However, if you experience barriers to learning in this course, do not hesitate to discuss them with me and the Office for Students with Disabilities, 514-398-6009.
