

TEACHING ASSISTANT
POSITION POSTING
McGILL UNIVERSITY

Hiring Unit:
Department of Epidemiology, Biostatistics and Occupational Health
Course Title and Number:
Special Topics in Population and Public Health 4 - Ethnicity, Culture and Health - PPHS 683
Estimated Number of Positions:
1
Total Hours of Work per Term:
70
Position Summary:
The primary role of teaching assistants within the course is to facilitate student learning by assessing, providing feedback, and answering student questions on their individual and group-based assignments that include a commentary, critical appraisal and podcast. Teaching assistants will be required to attend some classes (approximately 2-3 per term) when in class support is needed to facilitate discussion and class activities. Teaching assistants will be asked to answer student emails and offer office hours to students via appointment.
Qualifications:
Teaching assistants should have a strong background in health equity, social justice, intersectionality and anti-racism in the context of research, practice and advocacy. Further, having experience in conducting quantitative or qualitative research focusing on racial and structural oppression and its impact on the health and wellness of populations will be an asset. Teaching assistants will evaluate student assessments by using a rubric provided by the instructor and all members of the teaching team will go over grading expectations and grade a few assignments together to ensure all are comfortable with the evaluation and feedback process.
Please note that Teaching Assistants will be required on campus to perform their tasks in person.
