Faculty Club Newsletter April 2016 Edition

Now that March is finally behind us, we look forward to beautiful weather in April. It's the perfect time of year to visit McGill University's sister property, the Gault Estate. Located on the shores of Lac Hertel in Mont Saint-Hilaire, the reserve offers local residents and the general public a mini recreational retreat. A place to find peace of mind or organise an executive meeting, the staff on hand is ready to fulfill all your needs. The Gault Estate was officially renamed the Gault Nature Reserve by McGill University and is recognised as a private natural reserve under the natural heritage conservation act by the Ministère du Développement durable de l'Environnement et des Parcs du Québec. Bridge: Tuesdays, April 12th and 27th -- Maude Abbott Room at 13:15 to 16:15

All bridge aficionados are invited to the Faculty Club! The McGill Committee for Retired Professors welcomes new participants as well as the “regulars” to this event. Normally, players of all levels gather twice a month for a nice friendly match with others to share a passion for the same pastime. We look forward to seeing you with a deck of cards!

Centraide Trivia Night: Tuesday, April 12th, Faculty Club Ballroom, Registration at 5:30 pm, Quiz at 6:00 pm:

The fifth round of Trivia Night is coming up. The competition continues as teams participate in a fun and challenging activity that helps out a great cause. Faculty Club President David Harpp is the host for the evening and all donations go to Centraide. Make sure to rack up the most points as this is the final stretch for all teams. With many teams fighting for the top honors and only two rounds left, it will be interesting to see who comes out the winner. SOLD OUT

April wine promotion

Spring has finally arrived. The weather is warming up quickly, so to celebrate the Faculty club is offering a promotion on its house wines, enjoy a glass of red, white or rosé at $5.00 per glass.
