LUNCHTIME DISCUSSION

ResearchGate, Academia.edu and Open Access: What are they good for or are they good for nothing?

Wednesday, February 28, 2018 12:30 - 2:00 p.m.
Department of Family Medicine,
5858, chemin de la Côte-des-Neiges, 3rd floor, Suite 300, Classrooms 4 & 5

Alexandra Kohn
Assistant librarian and Head of Office of Copyright Compliance at McGill University

Vera Granikov
Research-embedded information specialist with the McGill Methodological Development Platform of the Quebec SUPPORT Unit

- Are you on ResearchGate or Academia.edu? Did you check your publisher agreement before uploading your manuscript?
- Are you funded by CIHR? Have you satisfied the tri-council Open Access requirement?

This session will explore the potential uses, benefits and drawbacks of academic social networking sites (e.g., ResearchGate). We will present some alternatives and unpack their relationship with Open Access and funder policies.

Lively discussion encouraged!
