JGH - Herzl Family Practice Centre – Faculty Development Site Lead

MYLENE ARSENAULT, MD is an assistant professor at McGill University in the department of Family Medicine. She holds an MD from McGill where she completed her residency training in Family Medicine. She is an attending staff at the HERZL Family Practice Center as well as at the Jewish General Hospital Adolescent and Young Adult Oncology Cancer Center.

Dre Arsenault is involved in various committees for the development of continuing medical education for physicians. She is part of the organizing committee for the McGill Annual Refresher Course for Family Physicians as well as the Jewish General Hospital Continuing Medical Education planning committee. She is currently co site lead for Faculty Development at the Herzl Family Practice Center.

She has an interest in Cancer survivorship and has several ongoing projects aimed at improving shared care between specialists and family practitioners. One of her missions is empowering patients in their cancer care trajectory. The COVID-19 pandemic has also sparked a new interest for her in the field of telemedicine. She is involved in a few research projects on that subject.

It is her belief that “There is no elevator to success, you have to take the stairs”.
