Dr Perrotta is presently a member of the McGill Family Medicine Faculty Development Committee and the McGill Thursday Evening Lecture Series Scientific Committee. She has held roles as Family Medicine Grand Rounds Coordinator and Family Medicine Obstetrics Coordinator in the past at St Mary's.

Current academic interests are faculty development and continuing medical education. In learning you will teach, and in teaching you will learn (Phil Collins). It is the learners and the interactions between the learner and the teacher that drive knowledge expansion and this creates a domino effect for more learning and sharing of ideas.
