

David Levine, President and CEO of DL Consulting

David Levine is presently President and CEO of DL Consulting offering services in Health System Management.

David Levine was President and Chief Executive Officer of The Montreal Health and Social Service Agency from 2002 to 2012. The Agency had the responsibility for health and social services for the region of Montreal, population 2 million with a 6.3 billion dollar budget, and 43 public institutions offering services to the population

Prior to his appointment at the Agency Mr. Levine was President and CEO of the Ottawa Hospital, one of Canada's largest acute care teaching hospitals,, from 1998 to 2001.

Prior to his appointment in 1998, Mr. Levine was Delegate General for the Quebec Government in New York City. He also served as Chief Executive Officer of Notre-Dame Hospital in Montreal 92-97 the Verdun General Hospital 82-92 and the CLSC or community health center from 75-78. During his career, he has held other important positions in the health field including at Quebec Occupational Health and Safety Commission 80-82.He also acted as consultant to the Minister of Economic Development for the Quebec Government 78-80.

Mr. Levine was the Junior Minister of health in Quebec in 2002 after leaving the Ottawa Hospital.

Mr. Levine has sat on the Board of the Ontario Hospital Association, the Quebec hospital Association, the Ottawa Health Research Institute and the Canadian Health Care Association. He was also on the board of the Canadian Institute for Health Information and was President of the Canadian Association of Teaching Hospitals as well as President of the Association of CEO's of Quebec.

He holds a Bachelor's degree in Civic Engineering from McGill University, a Master's degree in Biomedical Engineering from Imperial College of Science and Technology, London, England and a Master's degree in Health Administration from the University of Montreal.