7.0 Existing Program (Environment Option)

CC-13-7

Program Requirements

The Graduate option in Environment provides students with an appreciation of the role of science in informing decision-making in the environment sector, and the influence that political, socioeconomic and ethical judgments have. The option also provides a forum whereby graduate students bring their disciplinary perspectives together and enrich each other's learning through structured courses, formal seminars, and informal discussions and networking. Students who have been admitted through their home department or Faculty may apply for admission to the option. Option requirements are consistent across academic units. The option is coordinated by the MSE, in partnership with participating academic units.

Thesis

A thesis for the doctoral degree must constitute original scholarship and must be a distinct contribution to knowledge. It must show familiarity with previous work in the field and must demonstrate ability to plan and carry out research, organize results, and defend the approach and conclusions in a scholarly manner. The research presented must meet current standards of the discipline; as well, the thesis must clearly demonstrate how the research advances knowledge in the field. Finally, the thesis must be written in compliance with norms for academic and scholarly expression and for publication in the public domain.

Language Requirement

One research language at the advanced level or two research languages at the intermediate level.

Logic Requirement

The Logic requirement is satisfied in one of two ways:

- A) By the end of December of the first year, the student sits an examination, equivalent to the final examination of PHIL 210 and passes it with a grade of B+ or better. A student who does not achieve a satisfactory grade will sit a supplementary examination to be held before the end of May of the first year. The examination is graded on the same scale as that applied to undergraduate students in PHIL 210.
- B) The student passes a logic course more difficult than PHIL 210 (eg. PHIL 310) with a grade of B+ or higher before the end of the first year of the program.

A student failing to satisfy the logic requirement will be asked to withdraw from the programme by the Graduate Director.
