

The McGill Centre for Research and Teaching on Women (MCRTW) presents:

Feminist Responses to the Bouchard-Taylor Commission Réponses féministes à la Commission Bouchard-Taylor

Alia Al-Saji, McGill University

Nancy Burrows, Fédération des femmes du Québec

Emilie Connolly and Robyn Maynard, Accommodate This!

Samaa Elibyari, Canadian Council of Muslim Women

Louise Langevin, Université Laval

Gada Mahrouse, Concordia University

Tess Tesalona, Immigrant Workers Center

Daniel Weinstock, Université de Montréal

This symposium brings together scholars and representatives of immigrant and women's groups in Quebec in order to examine, from a variety of feminist perspectives, the issues that led to the debate around "reasonable accommodation" and the effects of the Bouchard-Taylor commission.

Le symposium se propose non seulement de réexaminer les travaux et le rapport de la commission, mais aussi de susciter une discussion critique quant à la place à réserver aux prises de position féministes dans le débat sur les accommodements raisonnables.

Friday, November 28, 2008, 9 AM – 5 PM

McGill University, Leacock Building, Room 232 (enter through main campus on Sherbrooke Street West)

Entrée Libre. Bienvenue à tous!
