Even if you qualify as a fully vaccinated traveller, you will still have to respect certain border and health measures before travelling to Canada and upon arrival. Please see our Travelling to and from Canada page as well as the Government of Canada's COVID-19: Travel, testing and borders page for detailed information.

Post-Graduation Work Permit Facilitative Measures

Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) has extended their facilitative measures for the PGWP as follows for students who had to study online from outside of Canada:

You can apply for a PGWP if you

- were enrolled in a program that was in progress in March 2020 or
- started or will start a program between spring 2020 and summer 2022 and
  - you have a study permit or
  - you’ve been approved for a study permit or
  - you applied for a study permit before starting your study program
    - Your study permit must eventually be approved.

And you:

- completed a study program
  - at a designated learning institution
  - that was at least 8 months long and
  - which led to a degree, diploma or certificate
- maintained full-time status as a student during each semester of your study program
  - This doesn’t include your final semester, which can be part-time, or if you took an approved leave from your studies.
  - If you had to stop studying or change to part-time studies between March 2020 and the fall semester in 2020 because of reasons related to COVID-19, you may still be eligible for a PGWP.

Only the time you spent studying outside Canada after we received your study permit application counts towards the length of your PGWP.

This means that Winter 2022 admits who are still waiting for their study permits to be processed can still maintain their PGWP eligibility, as long as they respect the requirements above.

For students who completed (or will complete) their studies online from inside of Canada, the following measures apply:

You’re still eligible for the PGWP if either of the following situations applies to you:

- Your in-person classes in Canada have been moved to an online-only format and you are taking your classes online because of COVID-19.
  - It’s highly recommended that you attend in-class options when offered.
- You had to put your studies on hold, or study part-time, during the winter, spring or summer 2020 semesters because of COVID-19.

As of the fall 2020 semester, you must be studying full-time to be eligible.
International Student Health Insurance (IHI): UPDATES

1. If you have not yet done so, please activate your McGill's International Health Insurance (IHI) contract on Minerva before January 31st, 2022. Please be mindful of the January 31st deadline to send your supporting document, if you have applied for an exemption or to opt-in to the IHI plan, if you are a Canadian without a provincial health plan. International students applying for Régie de l'assurance maladie du Québec (RAMQ), under the citizenship agreement, may experience delays with obtaining their RAMQ letter of confirmation or card by the January 31st deadline. For this reason, we will be, exceptionally, accepting RAMQ confirmation coverage until the end of the winter 2022 term (April 30th). However, to avoid incurring any interest fees, please pay your IHI premium fees before the January 31st deadline.

Mental Health Supports for International Students

Meet your LWA: Jos

As the pandemic continues, it's normal to struggle with feelings of isolation and anxiety. That's why it's more important than ever to prioritize self-care, to connect with friends and loved ones (near and far), and to reach out for help when we need it. If you need a little extra support, the Student Wellness Hub offers a variety of workshops and support groups throughout the semester.
If you're here in Quebec, you can also take advantage of the clinical services at the Student Wellness Hub, including meeting with Jos Porter, the Local Wellness Advisor (LWA) for international students. Jos is a licensed mental health professional who works closely with ISS to promote the wellbeing of international students at McGill.

The keep.meSAFE counseling service is also available 24/7 from anywhere in the world. This month, they’re also starting Community Connection support groups, including a group specifically for international students. Together we’ll get through these challenging times!

Micro ExP

It’s hard to land a great summer job or internship without professional experiences or contacts. This is why CAPs is launching the Micro-ExP program to help you build your skills and network without the stress of missing class or work so you have an edge the next time you apply.

Learn more about Micro-ExP and make sure you get a spot!

LIVING IN MONTREAL: ETHNICITY AND ‘RACE’ FROM THE PAST TO THE PRESENT

What does it mean to be a Québécois and a Montréalais? Debates, at times acrimonious about systemic racism, reasonable accommodation, the proposed Charter of Values, and Bill 21 have dominated public discourse in Québec for more than a decade. To place these deliberations in perspective, this multidisciplinary seminar, with the participation of academic guest speakers and community workers, takes a close look at ethnicity, ‘race’, gender and class in Montreal from the nineteenth century to contemporary society. Community-engaged learning internships (in a remote setting) will be offered in well-known Montreal organizations.
