IMMIGRATION UPDATES

Easing of Travel Restrictions

Since February 28th, 2022, all travellers arriving to Canada from any country now have the option of either using a COVID-19 rapid antigen test result taken the day prior to their scheduled flight or arrival at the land border or marine port of entry OR a molecular test result (taken no more than 72 hours before their scheduled flight or arrival at the land border or marine port of entry) to meet pre-entry testing requirements. The rapid antigen test must be authorized by the country in which it was purchased and must be administered by a laboratory, healthcare entity or telehealth service.

In addition, fully vaccinated travellers are no longer required to complete a test upon arrival but may be randomly selected for arrival testing and are not required to quarantine while awaiting their test result. Children under 12 years old, travelling with fully vaccinated adults, continue to be exempt from quarantine, and no longer have any prescribed conditions limiting their activities. This means, for example, they no longer need to wait 14 days before attending school, camp or daycare.

Furthermore, international flights carrying passengers are now permitted to land at all remaining Canadian airports that are designated by the Canada Border Services Agency to receive international passenger flights.

We are saddened and devastated by the military invasion in Ukraine. War, violence, and political uncertainty can cause stress, anxiety, and other responses, even if someone is not directly affected by the situation. The keep.meSAFE program would like to remind you of their support during this difficult time as you try to understand the impact of the situation and process this event.

Crisis Support Line now open

While the Student Support Program (My SSP) help line is open for eligible students, LifeWorks has also opened a Crisis Support Line for anyone in the community in need of emotional support in relation to the emerging crisis in Ukraine. Reminder: As of March 8th students must use the new myISS web-based system to contact ISS

ISS mailbox will no longer be monitored

As we mentioned in our February newsletter, on February 1st, 2022 ISS launched a new web-based system, myISS. Effective March 8th 2022, the ISS email account will no longer be monitored. If you have a question for ISS, you must submit a myISS request form.

Please be reminded that you can access the myISS request form using your McGill log-in credentials to submit all your questions, and upload documents if needed.

When we receive your request form, we will evaluate your inquiry and respond accordingly. If it is determined that your request requires an advising appointment, you will receive an email from ISS which will notify you that you have been given access to appointment booking and direct you to the myISS student portal.

If you have not yet used the new system, we have prepared a short video and job aid that you may review to assist you with your first visit. These contain more details about the myISS system, including details on how to access the system, how to submit a request form, how to schedule an appointment once provided access to appointments by ISS, and how to upload your documents.

Please be assured, you will still be able to reach ISS by phone for any inquiries. Similarly, advising appointments may be booked by phone as well, if an ISS staff has determined that it is required for you to speak with an advisor.

For any feedback on myISS Request Form or myISS Student Portal, please fill in our webform.
