To Whom It May Concern:

On 15 December 2020, McGill Senate approved an Additional S/U (Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory) Option for the Fall 2020 and Winter 2021 terms, as an adjusted academic measure due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. Students were able to select up to a total of 6 credits over the two terms to be graded as S/U under this Additional S/U Option, as long as these decisions were in alignment with Faculty policies. These credits could be associated with elective, complementary, or required courses. Class averages showing on McGill transcripts in Fall 2020 and Winter 2021 were calculated and published after application of the Additional S/U Option. As such, class averages showing on transcripts for Fall 2020 and Winter 2021 may not be reflective of true class averages in those terms.
