

Critical Race Theory Seminar presents an Author-meets-Readers session with Professor Glen Coulthard

10 April 2015
1:00pm, Room 312
McGill Faculty of Law
New Chancellor Day Hall

While Red Skin, White Masks focuses on indigenous experiences in Canada, it is immediately applicable to understanding the false promise of recognition, liberal pluralism, and reconciliation at the heart of colonial relationships between indigenous peoples and nation-states elsewhere. Glen Sean Coulthard is able to bring a remarkably distinctive and provocative look at issues of power and opposition relevant to anyone concerned with what constitutes and perpetuates imperialist state formations and what indigenous alternatives offer in regards to freedom. — Joanne Barker, San Francisco State University

Glen Coulthard

Glen Sean Coulthard (Yellowknives Dene) is an Assistant Professor in the First Nations Studies Program and the Department of Political Science at the University of British Columbia. Red Skin, White Masks: Rejecting the Colonial Politics of Recognition (University of Minnesota Press), was released in August 2014. His co-edited book, Recognition versus Self-Determination: Dilemmas of Emancipatory Politics, was released in spring 2014 by UBC Press. He and Dr. Dory Nason were also featured contributors to the groundbreaking anthology, The Winter We Danced: Voices from the Past, the Future, and the Idle No More Movement (ARP Books), which was released to great acclaim in March 2014.
