Please provide the following information and return it together with this nomination form:

1. A nomination letter in support, preferably less than 1,000 words, of the research on which this nomination is based and its significance in the field of circulatory diseases.
2. A brief biographical sketch of the nominee (NIH format, 4pages – see www.nih.gov).
3. The nominee’s most significant publications related to the research noted under Item 1, and the reason for their significance.
4. An outline of the proposed research and/or academic activities (seminars, discussions) to be carried out at McGill and the names of potential McGill correspondents and host laboratories. A one to two-week residence at McGill University during the academic year should be anticipated by the nominee. The potential for collaborative research with McGill University faculty members is an important goal of the visit.
5. A full Curriculum Vitae, including training, positions held and awards received by the nominee and, if available and applicable, a summary of grant funding, including amounts, during the last five years and a complete listing of the nominee’s publications (please omit abstracts).
