

CONFABULATION

— STORIES, TRUE AS WE CAN TELL THEM —

*FOUR interactive STORYTELLING sessions with Matt Goldberg founder of Confabulation

Workshop series is open to undergraduate and graduate students registered in the Faculty of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences

*Students are expected to attend all 4 sessions

"Recent breakthroughs in neuroscience reveal that our brain is hardwired to respond to story; the pleasure we derive from a tale well told is nature's way of seducing us into paying attention to it."

-- Lisa Cron Wired for Story

The goal of this workshop series is to help you learn to tell your story -- to tell the world about your interest, your passion, your work. One good story can do more than you think. This workshop will help you learn how.

Thanks to the Lister Family Engaged Science Initiative cultivating the communication skills on Macdonald campus

Wednesday, October 4, 12-1:30 pm

Wednesday, October 11, 12 - 1:30 pm

Wednesday, October 18, 12 - 1:30 pm

Wednesday, October 25, 12 - 1:30 pm

Pre-registration: <https://www.mcgill.ca/osas/cpd/listerengagedscience>