2019 Meal Events to benefit local organizations

Students in the School of Human Nutrition's Quantity Food Production (NUTR346) course are taking their much anticipated "Meal Events" in a new direction this semester.

All groups will plan, prepare and serve a meal for real-world events including, but not limited to, a fund-raising luncheon for the Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club taking place today, all team meals at the upcoming Woodsmen Competition, and a fundraising lunch for the Montreal Diet Dispensary. If you have questions about any of these events, please follow the links to contact the team organizer.

Student Services encourages everyone to Participate in Well Week Activities

January 28 - February 1

McGill's first-ever Well Week will take place between January 28th and February 1st.

With help from student groups and offices from across the university, Well Week will offer everything from fitness activities and healthy eating tips to de-stress workshops and opportunities to learn how to support your peers. See the Macdonald Campus Schedule of Events.

Une fois son doctorat terminé, le jeune agronome Bernard Ato Hagan retournera au Ghana avec un prototype de logiciel qui pourra aider les producteurs agricoles de son pays à faire une meilleure sélection génétique de leurs troupeaux. La Terre de Chez Nous.

The #BuddleHuddle Postcast

We are incredibly excited to share Chris Buddle's (NRS) brand new podcast - the #BuddleHuddle!

Join our Dean of Students every Monday as he engages in conversation with students across McGill University. Listen to his candid take on topics that matter most to students and get to know him as he shares his stories about McGill, life as an administrator, and tips and tricks for student success, in life and learning. Together discover rarely-seen parts of McGill, and once in a while expect the awkward Dad joke. Learn more and link to Episode 1.

Student Services Welcomes a Physician to Campus

It's been an exciting year for Student Services at Macdonald Campus, with many newcomers and service additions. We have welcomed a Dietitian (Psychiatric Services), a Psychotherapist (Counselling Services), a local wellness advisor, and most recently, a Physician.

Dr. Harmeet Singh is available to meet with our students most Wednesday mornings. Students may book an appointment by calling 514-398-

7992 or visiting Student Services in the Centennial Centre.

View the Student Services Calendar.
