1. All users of the Cattle Complex should refrain from close contact with Farm technicians. Maintain a physical distance of at least 2 metres as much as possible, and wear a procedural mask.
2. All McGill University directives regarding Covid-19 practices must be followed.
3. All users of the Cattle Complex must enter and leave through the main door, and must sanitize hands and sign-in upon arrival and departure using the logbook at the main entrance. Use your own pen, or sanitize the pen provided before and after use. If someone becomes infected with Covid-19, we will be able to track those who have come into contact with this person.
4. Sanitizer stations, spray bottles and paper towels will be stationed at key areas – use these to sanitize your hands frequently, and to wipe down all tools, equipment and work surfaces before and after use.
5. Research teams must be provided with masks (and gloves where necessary) by their researcher/academic advisor – masks should be worn when inside the Cattle Complex, and outside when a physical distance of 2m cannot be maintained.
6. Designated eating areas:
   a. The kitchen is designated for Farm staff only.
   b. If research staff must stay for prolonged periods, they are encouraged to bring a lunch in a cooler. The sink on the right in Necropsy will be available to wash hands and dishes; a microwave oven will also be available on the counter in Necropsy. You may use the tables in the front of the classroom for eating.
      Please sanitize counters and tables before and after use.
7. Washrooms:
   a. The main washrooms/change rooms are for Farm staff only
   b. Research staff will use the washrooms located in the Farm Office and respect the following procedures:
      i. Wash hands with soap and water for a minimum of 20 seconds before and after using washroom.
      ii. Sanitize all areas of contact before and after use with sanitizer spray bottle and paper towels provided – door handle, toilet flush handle and seat, sink taps – BE CLEAN, BE TIDY, DO NOT LEAVE A MESS!!!!!
   c. Research staff may use a corner of Necropsy to put on and take off coveralls and change footwear (members of the Vasseur team will use their room in the back hall).
Finally, a friendly reminder – use of the Cattle Complex is a privilege granted to all of us by the Dean and McGill University administration. It is important that we respect and take care of each other by following all McGill guidelines and regulations, and the procedures specific to the Cattle Complex as outlined above. Failure to do so could lead to your removal from the Cattle Complex, and in severe cases, having the permission to conduct your research trial revoked.

In order to conduct research in the Cattle Complex, you must sign the following declaration and e-mail it to research.macdonald@mcgill.ca with Cc to Paul Meldrum: paul.meldrum@mcgill.ca.

I have read, understand, and agree to abide by, the procedures outlined in this document.

________________________________________
Signature

________________________________________
Name

________________________________________
Supervisor

________________________________________
Date

Thank you for your diligence and cooperation in following these procedures. We are all looking forward to a safe, productive and successful research season!

Dr. Salwa Karboune, Associate Dean of Research, Macdonald Campus
Paul Meldrum, General Manager, Macdonald Campus Farm