How to use this guide

Throughout this booklet, you will be referred to websites for more comprehensive information.

The Resources and Contacts section on pages 22-23 of this booklet lists all of the addresses, telephone numbers and websites you will need to plan your arrival and get settled in at McGill. Every department, office or service mentioned in this booklet is listed there.

International students should refer to pages 20-21 for important information on coming to Canada to study. More information can be found on the website at: www.mcgill.ca/internationalstudents

Welcome to the McGill community

Congratulations on being admitted to McGill University. Starting a new chapter in your life is exciting. It involves a major change and may mean leaving the home you grew up in and moving to a new city or even a new country. Of course, this step also involves logistical challenges that we are happy to assist you with. This essential guide provides you with information you will need about registering, settling into campus life, and getting to know the Macdonald Campus community.

Studying at McGill's Macdonald Campus is much more than spending time in lecture halls and classrooms – your courses will likely include laboratories, trips to fields and forests, and exposure to active learning classrooms. Because we offer an intimate educational setting, you will get to know your classmates well, and you will discover that your professors and the Macdonald staff are accessible, friendly and eager to help.

Anja Geitmann, PhD
Dean, Faculty of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences

We really want you to feel at home quickly, so don't be afraid to ask for help or advice! The Student Affairs Office in Laird Hall will help you navigate your academic program. The Student Services Office assists you with information about career options, financial aid and also provides mental and physical health services. Get involved with the Students' Society, one of the student clubs, or check out the athletics facilities, the Glenfinnan Arena and the Arboretum. Be sure to explore the local community of Ste-Anne-de-Bellevue, and take advantage of all that Montreal has to offer. It is important to dedicate time and energy to your classwork, but you should also seize the moment to enjoy your new life, pursue established hobbies, explore your surroundings and build a network of peers and friends. The friends you make at university will be the social network surrounding you for many years to come. The first step towards building your own community is simple – just introduce yourself to that other new student sitting next to you in class. That person is likely as new to Macdonald Campus as you are and will appreciate you reaching out. Sharing this new experience will make it all the more memorable!

I wish you every success as you embark on your academic program and this new chapter in your life.

Sincerely,

*Anja Geitmann, PhD
Dean, Faculty of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences*

For students starting in September...

Financial Planning and Financial Aid

An important step in planning your finances is estimating how much money you're likely to have available to you for your university studies. This is why we encourage you to apply for Financial Aid early - so that you will have the information you need to properly estimate your resources before the deadline to accept your offer arrives.

If you wish to apply for our Entrance Bursary Program, we strongly recommend that you apply within 30 days from the date of formal acceptance to the university as funding for this program is limited. The application closes on June 30.

For further information on calculating your costs and on financial aid: www.mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/finances

Scholarships

If you have been awarded an entrance scholarship, you will be notified by the Scholarships and Student Aid Office. The entrance scholarship offer must be accepted by the deadline for accepting admission to McGill. Simply respond to the offer by logging into Minerva and selecting the Financial Aid/Awards menu.

Scholarships are credited directly to your fee account - one half on September 1 and the other half in the first week of January.

For complete information on scholarships visit the Scholarships site: www.mcgill.ca/studentaid/scholarships-aid

Accept your offer of admission

Coming to McGill? Start by accepting your offer on Minerva. Log in at www.mcgill.ca/minerva-students, select Applicant Menu > Applicant Status, select the application and click Accept this offer. You will need a credit card to pay the $400 non-refundable deposit.

If you have decided that McGill is the university for you, and you have been admitted to one of your program choices but are still waiting for a decision on another program, you can accept your first offer now. You will still receive decisions on any other choices and your confirmation can be changed to another program by contacting Service Point at www.mcgill.ca/servicepoint/modify

FAQs can be found at mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/accepting

Deferring your offer

We are able to grant a limited number of undergraduate program deferrals each year. In order to be considered for a deferral, you must have accepted your offer of admission and paid the deposit. Please see mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/accepting/deferring-or-declining-your-offer for detailed information.

Accept your residence offer

To guarantee a room in the Macdonald Campus Residences, confirm your room reservation through Minerva and pay the residence deposit by the deadline posted at mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/housing. Make sure you read the online information and Community Living Guide carefully before accepting your offer (see page 12).

Missed the residence deadline?
As soon as possible, email:
lindsay.oconnell@mcgill.ca

Send us your final marks

To complete your admission we need your final official transcript including confirmation of graduation. If you are coming from CEGEP or are an Ontario high school student (or graduate) with an OUAC number, we will receive this information electronically. All other new students see: www.mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/finalmarks

Mailing and courier address for official transcripts and documents that cannot be uploaded:

Submit your legal documents

You are required to send us a number of legal documents, which vary according to whether you are an international student, Canadian citizen or Quebec resident.

Send in all your documents after you have accepted your offer and before you arrive on campus. This will ensure that your student record and tuition fees are up-to-date.

For information on what to submit:

Freshman Students

Dr. Alice Cherestes, Freshman Program Director & Advisor and Dr. David Titley-Peloquin, Advisor

freshmanadvisor.macdonald@mcgill.ca

You are considered a freshman student if you have been admitted from high school, or have completed a French Baccalaureate or International Baccalaureate, have less than 24 credits of advanced standing and/or are missing required freshman courses.

Freshman students entering the Faculty of Agricultural & Environmental Sciences have been admitted to one of the five programs listed on this page. Refer to your letter of acceptance or to your Minerva student record to verify your program.

The Freshman Academic Advisors will be holding mandatory advising sessions during Orientation Week. The Orientation schedule will be posted after July 23 at: www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/studentinfo/orientation. The Advisors are also available for advising during the summer.

There is an option to take admission science placement exams. Deadline to apply is August 15. See: www.mcgill.ca/students/exams/dates/science.

McGill 101: online orientation

Say goodbye to pre-university confusion and frustration with McGill 101, an online hub for all new McGill undergraduate students. It has videos, quizzes and information on everything from registration to getting involved.

All new students are automatically registered in McGill 101 during the summer and you can access it from your myCourses homepage. Participation is not mandatory, nor is it for credit, however each time you complete an activity, you will be entered in our end of summer prize draw. The more you do, the higher your chances of winning a prize! Login to myCourses after May 1 to check it out.

See: www.mcgill.ca/firstyear/undergraduate/pre-arrival/mcgill-101.

Academic advising

You will be assigned an Academic Advisor who will advise you throughout your degree with course selection and other related matters.

The list of Academic Advisors, as well as specific program advising information, can be found at: www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/studentinfo/advising

You should review this information before registering for your courses.

A Faculty Advisor is also available in the Student Affairs Office to assist you with general advising.

Students transferring from other universities should have their transcripts with them when they meet with their Academic Advisor.

Register for your classes

McGill's online registration system is known as Minerva. Registration opens in Minerva in June for all new students, but on different dates depending on where you are coming from.

You must register for at least one course by August 14 to avoid a late registration fee.

To find out your registration date see page 24 or: mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/register/dates

A step-by-step registration guide can be found at: www.mcgill.ca/students/courses/add

Having problems using Minerva?

Fill out a webform at: mcgill.ca/servicepoint/contact-us or call the helpline during office hours at: 514-398-7878.

Get your ID card

You will need your McGill ID card to access most essential services on our campuses including exams, the library, athletics facilities and residences.

You can get your ID card in person at the Macdonald Campus Student Affairs Office or at Service Point on the downtown campus. Early production of ID cards begins June 9. If you are in the Montreal area, we invite you to get your ID card in the summer to avoid the peak period in late August/September.

For updated information on when you can get you ID card on the Macdonald campus, see www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/studentinfo/sao

As part of Orientation Week, the Student Accounts Office will hold an information session for new students and parents. Learn about e-billing, billing dates, procedures, policies and more.

www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/studentinfo/orientation

For information on getting your ID card at Service Point on the downtown campus see: www.mcgill.ca/servicepoint/contact-us

To get your card you must be registered for at least one course. For information on how to get your ID card, what you need to bring with you and how to use McGill's optional photo upload tool see: www.mcgill.ca/student-records/personal-information/id

If you are moving into residence, instructions on how to get your ID card will be included in your Residence Move-In information email.

Tuition and fees

The cost of your first year at McGill depends on your program of study, your citizenship and where you will be living (residences, apartment, home, etc.).

For a tuition calculator, please visit www.mcgill.ca/student-accounts/tuition-fees/tuition-and-fees, and then select undergraduate fees from the side navigation bar.

E-Billing

Fall term tuition is billed in early August and is due by the end of August.

Winter term tuition is billed in early December and is due in early January.

Information on billing, fee payment and deadlines can be found on the website: www.mcgill.ca/student-accounts

IT Services

You need your McGill Username (firstname.lastname@mail.mcgill.ca) and McGill Password to access most central IT services, including: myCourses, Minerva, email, wireless, Virtual Private Network VPN). For an introduction to IT services available to you, visit Welcome New Students: IT Services Orientation at www.mcgill.ca/itsupport/welcome-students

Visit the IT Support Portal: www.mcgill.service-now.com/itportal where you will be able to:

- Browse the IT Knowledge Base and search for information on:
 - > accessing email and cloud storage
 - > creating or changing your password
 - > accessing free software and more
- Open a Live IT Support Chat
- Make a request, and track your tickets
- Report an issue.

Contact the IT Service Desk: www.mcgill.ca/itsupport/servicedesk to find the best ways to get IT assistance.

Visit the IT Services website: www.mcgill.ca/it/students to discover many of the IT resources available for students.

Learn ways to stay safe online: www.mcgill.ca/cybersafe

Please note that important communications will be sent to your official McGill email address, including your e-bill for tuition and fees. It is your responsibility to make sure you check it regularly.

Macdonald Campus Computing Centre

The computing facilities at the Macdonald Campus are managed by McGill's IT Services. Computer labs are available 24/7 year-round (except when there is a scheduled class taking place), and offer Windows computers with Microsoft Office software. Both scanning and printing are also available. Visit: www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/about/resources/computercentre

Students may visit the IT Portal at www.mcgill.service-now.com/itportal, and find other means of support including opening a live chat with an IT Service Desk agent.

Housing and settling in

If you are planning on living in one of the Macdonald Campus Residences, you must accept your residence offer on Minerva by the deadline posted at www.mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/housing. Please make sure you read the information and Community Living Guide at www.mcgill.ca/students/housing/residence-options/macdonald carefully.

If you have not yet requested residence, please contact the Residence Office immediately at: lindsay.oconnell@mcgill.ca

If you are planning to live off-campus, tips and a list of available accommodations can be found at: www.mcgill.ca/students/housing/offcampus

All about oneCard

The convenience of making purchases on campus without the hassle of carrying cash — your oneCard account on your McGill ID card is a convenient debit card for services on campus.

Use it to:

- pay for meals/ beverages/snacks at the Macdonald Campus Cafe, or in any of the dining halls and retail locations on the downtown campus;
- pay for laundry in rez;
- make purchases at the Mac Market and at select vending machines across campus;
- pay a reduced admission at the McGill Gault Nature Reserve.

For students moving into Mac residence, $150 will be billed to your student account and placed on your oneCard.

Macdonald Campus Residences staff

There is no full meal plan on the Macdonald Campus as there is no cafeteria open in the evenings. All Mac residences have full kitchens and a bus is provided weekly to go grocery shopping.

Request a Buddy!

Want a head start navigating your first year at McGill?

Why not get paired up with a current McGill student who can provide a helping hand by showing you the ropes of McGill's academic and social life.

To request a Buddy, International students should go to: www.mcgill.ca/peerprograms/new-student-mentorship

Canadian students can find a buddy through the Student Mentorship program. Info at: www.mcgill.ca/peerprograms/new-student-mentorship

First Friend

Meet your first friend, but definitely not your last. First Friend is a peer-to-peer program where you'll be matched with a fellow new McGill student (not to be confused with a mentorship program). We know that the start to your first year at McGill is going to be a different semester and that's why we want to help you connect with your peers. www.mcgill.ca/firstyear/first-friend

Explore the Macdonald Campus Library

Located in the Barton Building, the Macdonald Campus Library provides leading-edge collections, facilities and services to support a range of student needs. Books, journals, DVDs and course reserves are just some of the many things that can be borrowed.

Friendly staff is on-hand to help students locate and use relevant information. Subject-specialist librarians can help students in person, via phone, email or online chat. Comfortable seating, an eZone fitted with computers and individual and group study areas are provided. Services such as printing, photocopying and scanning are also available, as well as direct or wireless access to the internet and the McGill network.

www.mcgill.ca/library/branches/macdonald

Buy your books and supplies

Textbooks for the Fall must be ordered on the Le James bookstore website: <https://lejames.ca/>

Your textbook orders can be picked up at the Macdonald Campus bookstore.

For more information: <https://lejames.ca/find-us#maccampus>

Starting Orientation Week, info sessions will be available to help students learn about Library basics. Check it out at: <http://apps.library.mcgill.ca/workshops-and-tours/view-by-branch/11>

When should you get here?

Residence Move-In dates will be posted on the Residences website at www.mcgill.ca/students/housing/residence-options/macdonald

You should also receive an email from the Mac Residences Office with instructions.

Frosh and Orientation

Don't worry about trying to get settled into university life all by yourself. A week of Orientation and Frosh activities is planned for you that will be filled with opportunities to meet people, make new friends and get answers to any questions you may have.

Orientation and Frosh schedules will be available online in the summer at www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/studentinfo/orientation and www.maccampusfrosh.com respectively. Some events require pre-registration.

Winter Orientation

If you are entering McGill in January, you don't have to feel left out. All of the Frosh and Orientation sessions offered in September of the year you start at McGill are open for you as well. Just send an email to welcome.macdonald@mcgill.ca in August and we will send you the orientation information.

Pre-Arrival Webinars

Check out the pre-arrival webinars offered by McGill Campus Life & Engagement (www.mcgill.ca/firstyear/), on a variety of useful topics such as Getting Involved in McGill, Tips for a Healthy First Year, Living Off Campus, and many more! See www.mcgill.ca/firstyear/undergraduate/pre-arrival/programs/webinars

Macdonald Campus Parents' Tent

We have special events planned just for parents during Orientation. See: www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/studentinfo/orientation/parents

Étudiant(e)s francophones

Vous n'avez encore jamais étudié en anglais? C'est à vous que s'adresse la session d'accueil durant la semaine d'orientation.

Pendant cette session l'Adjointe aux étudiants francophones vous souhaitera elle-même la bienvenue et vous communiquera des informations essentielles pour réussir à McGill.

Nous espérons avoir l'occasion de vous rencontrer lors de cette session.

Pour plus d'informations sur cette session d'orientation, et notamment l'horaire des activités et les modalités d'inscription, veuillez voir: www.mcgill.ca/firstyear/undergraduate/orientation-week/fall/

English language skills

While it isn't necessary to be perfectly fluent in English to study at McGill, it helps to have a good understanding. If English is not your first language and you are entering Year 0 or Year 1, we offer a summer English course in August to help prepare you for studying at McGill. Subsidies are available; payment is required up front and eligible students will receive a credit in their student account in the fall.

See: www.mcgill.ca/mwc/courses/undergraduate-courses, course number CESL 299, Academic English Seminar, for more information and for confirmation that the course will be offered in 2022.

Indigenous students

McGill's First People's House, on the downtown campus, provides a "home away from home" and culturally welcoming environment for all Indigenous students, including for First Nations, Inuit, Métis, Maori and Aborigine students. Playing many roles including those of residence, gathering place and resource centre, it is foremost a community. They provide a space where students can find academic support and stay connected to Indigenous culture.

Activities are organized during orientation and throughout the year, such as the annual Pow-Wow, community dinners, social activities, weekly soup and bannock lunches and guest speakers.

Also offered is the Cousins Peer Mentorship Program which offers the chance for new Indigenous students to connect with current Indigenous McGill students.

For more information, see: www.mcgill.ca/fph

Health and dental care

All Canadian undergraduate students (including students from Quebec) are automatically included in a supplemental health and dental plan administered by the Macdonald Campus Students' Society (MCSS). For more information, see: www.studentcare.ca

Canadian students from other provinces should check with their provincial medicare office about the conditions of their health coverage while studying in QC.

Recent permanent residents and non-resident Canadians should refer to www.mcgill.ca/accepted/nextsteps/health-dental

International Students, and their accompanying dependants are required to participate in the compulsory McGill International Health Insurance (IHI).

For more information, see: www.mcgill.ca/internationalstudents/health

Support for students with disabilities

A variety of services are available to ensure that you can pursue a successful academic life at McGill. To make sure you have access to these services at the beginning of the term, contact the Office for Students with Disabilities as soon as you accept your offer of admission.

Advisors are available to discuss any barriers in your learning - be they temporary or permanent, visible or invisible: www.mcgill.ca/osd or email: disabilities.students@mcgill.ca

Macdonald Campus Student Affairs Office

Macdonald Campus Student Services

Macdonald Campus Student Affairs Office

The Student Affairs Office can help with any issues related to your admission or academic record.

Students can get their ID card, help with general advising, registration or exam issues, transfer credit questions, exchange information, and letters of attestation.

The Student Affairs Office also organizes orientation week for new students, as well as campus visits.

If you have other questions or issues, our staff will be happy to point you in the right direction for the answers you need.

See page 22 for contact information.

www.mcgill.ca/macdonald/studentinfo/sao

Services on the Macdonald Campus

While all McGill students are entitled to use the services of both campuses, both the Student Affairs Office in Laird Hall, and Student Services in the Centennial Centre can provide most of the help you will need as a Macdonald Campus student.

As the parent or guardian of a newly-admitted McGill student, you may also have questions. For resources created especially for you, see: www.mcgill.ca/accepted/parents

Student Services, Macdonald Campus

Student Services promotes students' overall well-being and success. Students can access financial aid, career planning, help with spiritual well-being, support for students with disabilities and/or access needs, services for Indigenous and international students, and support for survivors of sexual violence.

Student Services also offers physical and mental health care through the Student Wellness Hub. Students can meet with a doctor, nurse, counsellor, dietitian, or local wellness advisor at Macdonald Campus. Our services offer both virtual and in-person appointments.

See page 22 for contact information.

Life outside your classes

We know that as a new McGill student you are eager to meet new people, try new things and get involved. Whether you are looking for social opportunities, cultural, political, intellectual and physical challenges, or a taste of fun and excitement, you can find it all here!

Athletics and recreation

McGill's Macdonald Campus offers many ways to get active! Come check out our Sports Complex, where you can work up a sweat in our fitness centre or gymnasium. We offer intramural and rec sport programs, including a competitive loggersports team, group exercise classes and cross country ski and snowshoe rentals. Other recreational facilities on campus include a paddle shack, an arena, an outdoor trekfit gym and sand volleyball courts.

To see what is available on the Macdonald Campus, check out: macdonaldcampusathletics.ca or our Mac Athletics and Recreation FB or Instagram pages.

Two campuses - one shuttle bus ride away

McGill's shuttle is free for students and runs between McGill's Downtown and Macdonald Campuses, Monday through Friday, approximately every 45 minutes, but more frequently during peak periods. For information, see: www.mcgill.ca/transport/shuttle

Joining the clubs and coming out to campus events can significantly enhance your university experience!

Minors: Are you under the age of 17?

If you will be less than 17 years old by the time you travel to Canada, you must have a legal custodian in Montreal before starting immigration procedures to study at McGill.

If you DO have a custodian in Montreal, please follow the instructions provided in the CAQ application by Immigration Quebec. www.quebec.ca/en/education/study-quebec

If you DO NOT have a custodian in Montreal - and you will be living in McGill Student Residences - you can request to have the Associate Dean of Students act as your custodian.

For details: www.mcgill.ca/internationalstudents/immigration-documents/documents/minors

Internship/Co-op work permits

All international students who need to complete a mandatory internship as part of their program requirements will need a co-op work permit, whether the internship is paid or not (e.g. Dietetics or Concurrent Food Science/Nutrition students). You may apply for the permit at the same time as your study permit. For more information: www.mcgill.ca/internationalstudents/work

International students

Studying internationally is an exciting adventure, but you may also have a lot of questions! International Student Services is dedicated to helping ease your transition and ensure you arrive well prepared.

Consult the International Student Pre-Arrival Resources for detailed information on:

- Immigration documents
- Health Insurance
- Student Residences & Off-Campus Housing
- The Buddy Program
- Packing for Montreal's climate
- Arriving at Customs and Immigration
- Your Airport Arrival
- Getting the essentials (banking, cell phones, and more)
- And much more!

mcgill.ca/internationalstudents/pre-arrival

Don't delay!

Apply for your immigration documents early! You should start the process as soon as you receive your offer of admission to McGill. We strongly encourage you to start the process early to ensure that you receive your documents in time for the start of classes.

Once in Montreal, don't forget to scan copies of your legal documents and send them to Service Point.
