

Travel Awards: 2nd round application

We are pleased to announce the results of the 2nd round Travel Awards application. The Awards go to: Ana Luiza Santos, Anish Arora, Gabriel Guajardo-Contreras, Moustafa Laymouna, and Seerat Chawla, to support their attendance of conferences and presentation of their research data. These awards are sponsored by the McGill Interdisciplinary Initiative in Infection and Immunity (MI4). Congratulations on their successful applications!

Ana Luiza Santos: present on “Psychotropic drugs attenuate the reactivation of HIV-1 from latency”, at the XLVI Chilean Congress of Microbiology (SOMICH), from Andrew Mouland lab

Anish Arora: present on “Increased support from clinicians alongside exploration of community-engaged models of care are needed to support migrant people living with HIV amidst the COVID-19 pandemic”, at the 7th Global Symposium on Health Systems Research, from Bertrand Lebouché lab

Gabriel Guajardo-Contreras: present on “VIH-1 en movimiento! Hitching a ride on late endosomes/lysosomes”, at the XLIV Chilean Conference of Microbiology (SOMICH), from Andrew Mouland lab

Moustafa Laymouna: present on “Artificial Intelligence-Based Chatbots in Healthcare: Uses and impacts” at the Family Medicine Forum (FMF) 2022, from Bertrand Lebouché lab

Seerat Chawla: present on “Understanding and Managing the Impact of Mental Health Conditions on the Care Cascade Among Women Living with HIV”, at the North American Primary Care Research Group Meeting, from Alexandra de Pokomandy lab

Stay tuned for the next round of Travel Awards application, which will be announced shortly.