Are you up to the challenge?

McGill’s MDCM-PhD Program seeks students who are passionate about research and healthcare.

Interested in a career in both research and clinical medicine? Attend an information session about McGill’s prestigious MDCM-PhD Program. Learn about this select training program and hear from past and current trainees. Find out if you have what it takes.

MDCM-PhD Program Open House

September 26 / 6:30 pm – 8 pm

McIntyre Medical Sciences Building,
Palmer Howard Amphitheatre, Room 522,
1200 Pine Avenue West, Montreal, QC, H3A 1X1

Guest speaker
LYSANNE CAMPEAU, MDCM, PhD, FRCSC,
Assistant Professor of Surgery, McGill University,
Urologist, Jewish General Hospital,
Clinical researcher, Lady Davis Institute for Medical Research,
McGill University

Keynote speaker Dr. Lysanne Campeau specializes in neurogenic voiding disorders and incontinence, as well as pelvic reconstruction. She was awarded the Fonds de recherche Santé Québec Clinical Research Scholar Junior 1 Award (2014-2018) and the American Urological Association Foundation Rising Star in Urology Award (2015-2018).

Director of the McGill MDCM-PhD Program:
MARK J. EISENBERG, MD, MPH,
Professor of Medicine,
Senior Investigator, Lady Davis Institute for Medical Research,
McGill University

Contact info:
www.mcgill.ca/medadmissions/
programs/mdcm-phd
Facebook.com/McGillMDPhD
admissions.med@mcgill.ca
514-398-3517