

MANAGEMENT FORUM CONFERENCE
“LEADERS TEAMS AND LIFE”
NOVEMBER 17 2010

Peter Smith

Peter Smith, a native of Lachine, Que., was appointed head coach at McGill University in 1999 and took a one-year sabbatical in 2009-10 to serve as an assistant coach with the gold-medal winning Canadian Olympic women's team. Smith now serves as manager of professional development for varsity coaches at McGill.

Smith previously served with as an assistant coach with Team Canada, winning gold at the 2006 Winter Olympics in Turin, the 2006 Four Nations Cup in Kitchener, the 2005 Torino Ice pre-Olympic tourney in Italy, the 2005 Four Nations Cup in Hameenlinna, Finland and the 2005 world championships in Linkoping, Sweden

Smith, the winningest women's hockey coach in McGill history, has guided the Martlets to a berth at the CIS national championship tournament in nine of the last 10 seasons, winning two gold medals, a pair of silvers and four bronzes.

Smith coached Team Quebec at three Esso women's national championships, he also coached the West Island (QC) Blues and directed the Lac St-Louis under-16 girls regional team at the provincial championships.

He has two daughters, Natalie and Christina, both of whom played for the McGill Martlets.

Smith has a bachelor's degree in physical education (1979) and a master's degree in sports psychology (1986), both from McGill. Smith swam for the McGill Redmen, serving as team captain from 1977 to 1979. He qualified for the CIS national swim championships in all three of his years.

Peter McNally

BA, Western Ontario

BLS, MLS, MA McGill University

McGill University Libraries, 1966-1972 – Librarian

School of Information Studies, 1972 – Professor - teaching and doing research on the History of Books, Printing, and Libraries, and on the History of McGill University
Approximately 200 publications

History of McGill Project, Director, 2003- (Writing vol. III of McGill University: for the Advancement of Learning. McGill Alumni Association. Distinguished Service Award. 2002

Speaker, Graduate Faculty Council, 2000-2002

President, McGill Faculty Club, 1983-1985

President, Bibliographical Society of Canada, 1999-2002

Convenor of the Library History Interest Group, Canadian Library Association, 1980-

May Shawi

May Shawi obtained her B.Sc. in Biochemistry from McGill University. She later obtained a graduate degree in Biotechnology at Harvard University and is currently completing her PhD at the Faculty of Medicine of McGill University.

She has published many peer-reviewed articles in interdisciplinary fields such as genetics, immunology and oncology. She gave presentations at the national and international levels.

Her involvement in the biotechnology industry is diversified. In addition to acquiring professional experience at the Novartis Institute for Biomedical Research in Boston, she has over four years of pharmacy management experience. In 2009, she founded 'BioTech Montreal', a networking group for life sciences and corporate professionals with over 600 members. She also holds a sub-chair position at the Jewish General Hospital Next Generation Foundation and is currently working with Skillsets for Teaching and Learning Services.

Lloyd Bartlett

Lloyd Bartlett is a senior project manager, consultant and trainer. He has over 25 years experience in successfully managing a wide variety of projects, on both a national and international scale. These projects have ranged from engineering works to strategic marketing initiatives to systems development.

Mr. Bartlett holds an MBA (specialization in Project Management) from Queen's University. He is a member of the Order of Engineers of Quebec since 1976, and is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP) since 1998.

In 2008, Mr. Bartlett was presented by the McGill Centre for Continuing Education with a 'Distinguished Teaching Award' for his teaching of Project Management.

Mr. Bartlett currently serves as coach and consultant to numerous organizations applying project management to improve their business results.

Joan Butterworth

Joan Butterworth is the Leadership Training Facilitator in McGill's First Year Office and has worked in administration at McGill in a number of different areas. She has diligently been bridging her expertise in theatrical improvisation to leadership and leadership skills and getting faculty, staff and students to do improv for several years now.

Joan gives improv workshops for non-actors and actors; she has developed these workshops as a positive form of creative expression, cognitive flexibility and exploration. She has a few degrees from McGill including a B.A. in English Literature as well as a Master's degree in Educational Technology from Concordia.

Her background includes studying improvisation with Albert Nerenberg, acting and directing with Theatre Shmeatre, acting in plays by Steve Galluccio (author of Mambo Italiano) and as a improviser with CIA (Caught In the Act).

In March 2010, Joan gave a plenary session for Management Forum on Work and Play. It was way fun!

Dr. Pierre Paul Tellier

Dr Tellier is a family physician who has been working with young people in Montreal for over 30 years.

He has volunteered with such organizations as Head and Hands, Projet d'intervention auprès des mineur/res prostitués/ées, Passages, AIDS Community Care Montreal, Friends for AIDS, and was medical director of the infirmary for all dance events organized by Bad Boys Club Montreal for over 10 years.

In his spare time he works at McGill Student Health, Head and Hands and at the Herzl Family Medicine Unit at the Jewish General Hospital.

Pierre Barbarie

Pierre Barbarie was appointed to the position of Associate Director-University Safety, responsible for Security Services in January 2007. He held various positions in Security Services since his McGill career began in September 2000; ranging from Supervisor, to Operations Manager, to his present position.

Before McGill, he worked as a Corrections Officer and Private Detective.

Pierre is a graduate of l'Université de Montréal in Security & Police Management. He also attended the Police Academy in 1992.

He is the Canadian Director and member of the Board of Directors of the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators (IACLEA). He is an active member of the Ontario Association of College & University Security Administrators (OACUSA).

Pierre has received training and attended various sessions throughout North America in relation to Unified Command, Threat Assessment and Active Shooter situations.

He is the University's Incident Commander should any emergency or crisis occur.

Martha Harrison

Martha Harrison has been working in the marketing and sale of wines in Canada for over 25 years. A McGill MBA (1998), she has managed many prestigious internationally renowned wine brands. In 2004 she founded Connexion Oenophilia, an agency representing top quality wines from independent producers from an array of countries, including New Zealand, Australia, South Africa, Argentina, Chile, France, Italy and Hungary as well as whiskies from Scotland and Ireland.