Section Four: Departmental Fellowships

- Newly admitted graduate students are awarded a Recruitment Fellowship or a Tuition Assistance Fellowship. The award is determined by the student's degree and residency status. No application is needed. For more information on the awards' value, duration, and eligibility visit: <http://mcgill.ca/microimm/graduate/funding/support>
- Students will receive the award remuneration in two installments (Fall & Winter). The amount of the award will be paid via direct deposit into the student's bank account. Students starting the program in the Winter or Summer terms will only receive the award in the following Fall & Winter terms.
- An email will be sent by the department to the student and the supervisor to inform them of the award amount.
- Departmental fellowships are top-ups and cannot be used to decrease the minimum contribution from the supervisor to the stipend. They are given in full to the student.
