We are pleased to welcome the Mozarteum Trio of Salzburg as guests of the Schulich School of Music. Their performance today is part of a Chamber Music exchange between the Mozarteum and McGill University. For three years now, the Schulich School of McGill has organized a Chamber Music Competition of which the winner of the competition is sent to Salzburg for one week of lessons, coachings, and participation in their annual Chamber Music Festival. McGill has also welcomed Professor Wolfgang Redik, head of Chamber Music at the Mozarteum, for a one-week residency to coach and teach at McGill. This is the first visit of an ensemble from the Mozarteum. They will be receiving coachings from seven different staff members of the Schulich School of Music in addition to their concert appearance today.
