What of Man

inspiré de / inspired by Kabir

Then, what of the imperfection of man, you ask?

Clearly the Beloved is dead if man is so awed.

Ah, man, I say.

Don't you know, when he takes off his greed at night and hangs it in his golden armoire, when he takes off his hate and locks it in a steel trunk (the kind Houdini used),

when he takes off his diamond encrusted blinders,
he is so dazzled by the splendor of this world his heart explodes in joy.

Do not judge man.

He knows not what he is.

Once he remembers and tastes the Beloved in every breath,
you will love him as much as I do.
