Your main research supervisor must be a NEO member from the faculty members of the NEO participating departments (list: <http://www.mcgill.ca/neo/faculty/>) If you are interested in working with a McGill professor who is not on the list, then talk to that professor about whether they might want to join NEO.

If your main research supervisor is not a McGill professor, then he/she must have an adjunct appointment at McGill (list: <http://www.mcgill.ca/neo/faculty/>). In this case, we recommend that your co-supervisor be a McGill professor.

If your main research supervisor is a McGill professor, then your co-supervisor does not have to already be in the NEO program – although this is recommended.
