

Bio:

Alan Thompson is Dean, UCL Faculty of Brain Sciences; UCL Pro Vice-Provost (London); Garfield Weston Professor of Clinical Neurology and Neurorehabilitation, Institute of Neurology; and Chair of the Neuroscience Program at UCLPartners Academic Health Science Center. He is Emeritus

Senior Investigator of the National Institute for Health Research and Honorary Consultant Neurologist, National Hospital for Neurology and Neurosurgery, Queen Square London. He is a Fellow of the Academy of Medical Sciences, the American Academy of Neurology, the American Neurological Association, and the European Academy of Neurology. He chairs the Scientific Steering Committee of the International Progressive Multiple Sclerosis Alliance, is Editor-in-Chief for Multiple Sclerosis Journal and a Guarantor of Brain.

As Dean, he leads translational research programmes in dementia, mental health and sensory systems. He led UCL's successful bid for the Hub of the £250m UK Dementia Research Institute, established the UCL Institute of Mental Health and is developing major centres for translational neuroscience centre and ophthalmology.