JOB DESCRIPTION & OTHER INFORMATION

Course Description:

This is a preceptor-based course in community health settings where students apply the guiding principles and values of primary health care through the application of the community health nursing process using capacity building and strength based approach in partnership with individuals, families and groups within the health care system. The clinical instructors, with support from the course coordinator, provide support to the student/preceptor dyads to ensure that the course objectives are met. Clinical instructors are assigned a group of students (maximum 25).

Role Expectations:

- Support preceptors and students in the clinical setting through visits to clinical settings as well as by email, myCourses, or telephone as needed.
- Support clinical nurse preceptors in relation to teaching/learning principles, enhancing clarification of course objectives, student evaluation, and relevant university policies/procedures.
- Facilitate the development of community nursing competencies in students
- Answer student and preceptor questions in a timely manner
- Review student learning objectives and reflections to support their learning and attainment of the course objectives.
- Support preceptors in completing clinical evaluations and review/discuss with course coordinator as needed
- Promote a healthy learning environment
- Attend ½ day introductory class (Rotation 1) or (Rotation 2)
- Attend ½ day orientation to the course, scheduled in collaboration with course coordinator

It may be possible that some aspects of this course will be offered in person and/or using tele-health
