JOB DESCRIPTION & OTHER INFORMATION

Please enter job description, role expectations and tasks, and other information as needed.

Course Description:

This is a preceptor-based course in community health settings where students apply the guiding principles and values of primary health care through the application of the community health nursing process using capacity building and strength based approach in partnership with individuals, families and groups within the health care system. The clinical instructors, with support from the course coordinator, provide support to the student/preceptor dyads to ensure that the course objectives are met. Clinical instructors are assigned a group of students (maximum 36).

Role Expectations:

- Support preceptors and students in the clinical setting through visits to clinical settings as well as by email, myCourses, or telephone as needed.
- Support clinical preceptors in relation to teaching/learning principles, enhancing clarification of course objectives, student evaluation, and relevant university policies/procedures.
- Facilitate the development of community nursing competencies in students
- Answer student and preceptor questions in a timely manner
- Support preceptors in completing clinical evaluations and review/discuss with course coordinator as needed
- Promote a healthy learning environment
- Attend ½ day meeting with course coordinator and meet & greet with students on September 2nd 13h00-17h00
- Attend team meetings throughout the semester, usually online, except last meeting which is at ISoN
