COURSE POSTING: CLINICAL INSTRUCTOR

- Supports student learning by assessing the student's learning style and providing the appropriate teaching strategy.
- Organizes and leads group clinical conferences (may be remote).
- Evaluation of formative and/or summative student assignments as required.
- Provides formative and summative evaluation of students' clinical performance, including documenting the students' progress throughout the course.
- Communicates with the course coordinator any concerns related to student learning.
- Works with the clinical unit leadership to promote the best student learning experience possible.
- Accesses MyCourses regularly and communicates with students by email as necessary.
- Participates in end of course debrief.

Please note that given the resumption of in-person teaching activities, most courses will be taught in person. Exams may however need to be administered remotely depending, mainly on the size of the class. Course Lecturers will be required to plan accordingly. Should government restrictions prohibit the resumption of in person teaching, courses will revert to remote teaching. In the event of such a change, Course Lecturers will be advised without delay. Course Lecturers may be required to prepare and deliver teaching material suited to a remote/online teaching environment using a virtual learning platform [e.g., Zoom, WebEx] and the McGill myCourses learning management system. Training and assistance on remote teaching is available through Teaching and Learning Services (TLS) . Course Lecturers are encouraged to record their lectures.
