

QUEERING NURSING PEDAGOGY: A NARRATIVE APPROACH

Presented by Jane Shulman, MA

Friday, January 24th, 2020

14h - 15h30

Ingram School of Nursing, Room 1825
McGill University
680 Sherbrooke Ouest

The stories that queer people carry into medical encounters are a rich and underutilized resource for healthcare providers. This workshop will explore the challenges that queer people may face when they seek healthcare. We will look at strategies that nurses can use to build on strengths, encourage storytelling, and create relationships of trust to provide the best care to queer patients.

COLLABORATION
McGILL NURSING
COLLABORATIVE

Funded by The McGill Nursing Collaborative