

Continuing Professional Development

Réunion scientifique pédiatrique
Pediatric Medical Grand Rounds

Donald and Elizabeth Hillman Global Child Health Lectureship

“Fellowship Safaris Podcast: Making Meaning of Diverse Medical Education Narratives”

Presenter: Dr. Njeri Karianjahi

Consultant Paediatrician (University of Nairobi)
Adolescent Medicine Specialist (University of Toronto)
Creator, Host and Curator of the Fellowship Safaris Podcast.

29 mai, 12h - 13h
May 29, 2024, 12pm - 1pm

VIRTUAL:

<https://mcgill.zoom.us/j/81881761720>

1. To provide an analysis of some of the cultural, social, and institutional factors influencing IMG educational journeys, fostering cultural competence among healthcare educators and practitioners.
2. Make meaning of the diverse perspectives shared in the Fellowship Safaris podcast and appreciating the importance of diverse narratives in shaping medical education practices.
3. Understand the significance of podcasts as a versatile and accessible tool for enhancing learning experiences and promoting a dynamic exchange of diverse perspectives within the medical community.

McGill

Department of Pediatrics
Département de pédiatrie

Hôpital de Montréal
pour enfants
Centre universitaire
de santé McGill

Montreal Children's Hospital
McGill University
Health Centre