Grand Rounds will take place via Zoom
Zoom link: https://mcgill.zoom.us/j/93580867208

Educational Objectives:
1. Understand the rationale for novel gene therapies for hemoglobin disorders in the context of conventional allogeneic hematopoietic cell transplantation
2. Understand the options of gene addition and gene modification approaches, and the advantages and disadvantages of both
3. Learn the current results of gene addition and genomic modification therapies in hemoglobin disorders

Please note that for the time being, since Grand Rounds is taking place via Zoom, there will be no videoconferencing or livestreaming via Twitter.
