Biliary Atresia: Best Strategies to “De Liver” Care for Newborns

Rick Schreiber MDCM, FRCP(C), FAASLD

Professor of Pediatrics

University of British Columbia

Division of Pediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition

BC Children’s Hospital

le 28 octobre 2020 12 – 13h | October 28, 2020, 12:00 – 1:00 pm

Grand Rounds will take place via Zoom

Zoom link: <https://mcgill.zoom.us/j/93580867208>

Educational Objectives:

1. Understand Biliary Atresia as a rare orphan newborn liver disease
2. Appreciate early outcome determinants on long term survival with native liver (SNL)
3. Highlight the need for disease screening and update the current strategies

Please note that for the time being, since Grand Rounds is taking place via Zoom, there will be no videoconferencing or livestreaming via Twitter.
