

Recruiting Presenters for the Undergraduate Poster Showcase!

On March 15th, the Office of Science Education will host the Undergraduate Poster Showcase. After two years on Zoom, we're thrilled to host this event in person and celebrate undergraduate science research, projects, and assignments. All types of work are welcome, whether it's research conducted in a lab, a personal passion project, work done through an award, or more! First-timers and seasoned presenters alike are invited. There will be workshops available for participants to refine and master their presentation and poster development skills. The deadline to register is February 21, 2023.
